The Law Office of Matthew T. Singer, based in University City, MO, has launched a new website that is designed to help professional overseas contractors who may become injured on the job. Matthew T. Singer, attorney and founder of the new site, Overseas-Contractors.com, states, "Our aim with this site is to provide much needed consultations and to act as a Defense Base Act lawyer for those who need us."

Attorney Singer points out that it is critical that overseas contractors have a knowledgeable and experienced attorney should they suffer an injury overseas, to ensure that they receive everything to which they are entitled with regards to compensation. The attorney will assist contractors with filing insurance claims and various other tasks that may need to be done.

The law firm can consult with contractors regarding Defense Base Act Insurance and according to Attorney Singer, "We can provide information and services regarding filing for compensation and any number of other issues that may need to be taken care of."

The Law Office of Matthew T. Singer is a small law firm that focuses on the Defense Base Act law, offering injured contractors legal representation in a prompt, professional, and courteous manner. He states that the firm remains persistent and goal oriented, ensuring that clients receive the very best representation and that the company continually adapts to circumstances surrounding each individual case to provide each individual client the very best of options.

The lawyer states that any professional overseas contractor who has been injured on the job should contact the firm via their newly launched site as quickly as possible as, "time is often of the essence in these types of cases." Those who have obtained an injury can contact Defense Base Act Attorney Singer through www.overseas-contractors.com to learn more about their options and to consult with the attorney regarding compensation for their injuries.

Matthew T. Singer, Attorney at Law, primarily focuses on DBA law, representation injured contractors from various different states around the nation. He has traveled extensively in representing his clients, around the globe, and although he still practices state law, he prides himself and his firm on representing injured professional overseas contractors, which is the main focus of the firm at this time.
