

All In Solutions Detox Integrates Mental Health Treatment into Addiction Recovery Programs

September 30, 2025

SIMI VALLEY, CA - September 30, 2025 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

All In Solutions Detox, a CARF-accredited addiction treatment center in Simi Valley, California, emphasizes the critical importance of addressing co-occurring mental health disorders from the first day of addiction treatment. The facility has integrated comprehensive mental health screening and therapeutic support into its medical detoxification programs, recognizing that addiction and mental health conditions frequently occur together.

Research indicates that approximately 50 percent of individuals struggling with substance use disorders also experience co-occurring mental health conditions such as depression, anxiety, or trauma-related disorders. All In Solutions Detox addresses this dual diagnosis challenge by implementing mental health assessments at admission and providing immediate therapeutic interventions alongside medical detoxification services.

"We know addiction and mental health are inseparable. By addressing both from day one, we give our clients a stronger chance at lasting recovery," said Leonard Duran, Shift Lead, RADT at All In Solutions detox center.

The integrated treatment approach begins during the initial medical evaluation when clients enter the facility. Clinical staff screen for co-occurring disorders using evidence-based assessment tools, allowing the treatment team to identify mental health needs that may have contributed to or resulted from substance use. This comprehensive evaluation ensures that therapeutic interventions can begin immediately, rather than waiting until after the detoxification process is complete.

The facility's 12-bed detox center provides a supportive environment where clients receive both medical supervision for withdrawal management and psychological support for mental health symptoms. The treatment team, which includes licensed nurses, clinical directors, and behavioral health technicians, collaborates to create individualized care plans that address both addiction and mental health concerns simultaneously.

During medical detox at All In Solutions, clients participate in group therapy sessions that focus on understanding the connection between mental health and substance use. These sessions incorporate evidence-based practices such as cognitive-behavioral therapy and trauma-informed care approaches. The facility also provides individual counseling sessions where clients can explore personal mental health challenges in a confidential setting.

The integration of mental health treatment continues throughout all levels of care offered at All In Solutions' inpatient and outpatient locations, including residential treatment, partial hospitalization, and intensive outpatient programs. This continuity ensures that mental health support remains consistent as clients progress through their recovery journey. The facility's aftercare planning specifically addresses ongoing mental health maintenance, recognizing that sustained recovery requires continued attention to both addiction and mental wellness.
