

Burns Family Law P.A. Announces Updated Legal Resources for Divorce Proceedings

September 18, 2025

September 18, 2025 -
Burns Family Law P.A., a family law attorney firm operating since 2001, announces updated legal resources and expanded consultation services for residents navigating divorce and family law matters. The firm has introduced streamlined case evaluation processes and enhanced documentation support to address recent changes in Florida family law procedures.

The announcement comes as Florida courts report increased demand for family law services, with Osceola County experiencing a 12 percent rise in divorce filings over the past year, according to state judicial records. The firm's expanded resources address property division, child custody arrangements, support calculations, and alimony determinations under current Florida statutes.

"Recent modifications to Florida's family law statutes require careful attention to documentation and procedural requirements," said Nicole Burns of Burns Family Law. "Our updated resources help clients understand these changes and prepare the necessary documentation for their cases."

As a divorce attorney in Kissimmee, Burns brings 23 years of experience in Florida family law to the practice. The firm handles matters ranging from uncontested divorces to complex custody disputes, serving clients from offices located at 122 S Rose Ave Suite B.

The expanded services include comprehensive case evaluations that address both immediate filing requirements and long-term family stability considerations. The firm's approach incorporates recent updates to Florida's child support guidelines and alimony reform legislation passed in recent legislative sessions.

Burns Family Law services extend to paternity establishment, domestic violence advocacy, and post-judgment modifications. The firm serves Central Florida communities, including Kissimmee, St Cloud, Lake Nona, Poinciana, Davenport, and Celebration.

"Florida's family law landscape continues to evolve, particularly regarding time-sharing arrangements and parental responsibility determinations," added Burns. "Our practice stays current with these changes to provide accurate legal guidance based on the most recent statutory requirements."

The firm's designation as LGBTQ+ friendly reflects its service to all family structures recognized under Florida law. This includes same-sex divorces, adoption proceedings, and parental rights matters for non-traditional families.

Recent client feedback indicates increased demand for guidance on digital asset division and social media considerations in custody cases, areas that have gained prominence in family law proceedings. The firm has adapted its services to address these emerging concerns within the framework of existing Florida statutes.

Office hours are maintained Monday through Thursday from 9 AM to 5 PM, with Friday hours from 9 AM to 1 PM. The firm accepts new clients seeking representation in divorce and family law matters.

Burns Family Law, P.A. in Kissimmee was established in 2001 as a dedicated family law practice. The firm focuses exclusively on family law matters, including divorce, custody, support, and related proceedings under Florida law. With over two decades of service to Central Florida communities, the practice maintains offices in Osceola County and serves surrounding areas throughout the region.
