

Master Mindset Program Enrollment Open with Training Solutions LLC

September 16, 2025

Kekaha, Hawaii - September 16, 2025 -

Training Solutions LLC has announced the opening of enrollment for the Master Key Experience 2025-26, a 26-week online personal development program beginning on 28 September 2025. The course is designed to support participants in exploring their individual purpose, building effective habits, and applying structured learning to areas of personal growth.

Registration for the 2025-26 session is available at https://followlink.cc/masterkeyexperience05.

The Master Key Experience has its roots in 2004, when founders Mark and Davene Januszewski began sharing Charles Haanel?s work, The Master Key System, in small study groups. In 2010, the program transitioned to an online format, combining Haanel?s principles with contemporary approaches in behavioural science and group-based learning. Over the past fifteen years, more than 4,000 participants have enrolled in the program.

The 2025-26 session marks the fifteenth anniversary of the program in its online form. New elements will include an interactive member area, access to a mobile app to facilitate peer discussion, and a digital resource library. Each week from late September to March, participants will take part in live online classes, which include Q&A segments and structured discussions.

The course format places emphasis on group interaction and guided support. Each participant is assigned to a small group led by a trained guide who has previously completed the course and undertaken additional facilitator training. Guides work with fewer than ten individuals in order to provide personalised support. The program also incorporates peer-to-peer learning, encouraging participants to form smaller communities for ongoing daily accountability.

Core program activities include the use of the Color Code® personality profile, designed to support greater self-awareness and improved interpersonal understanding. The curriculum also includes daily readings, written exercises, reflective practices, and weekly live classes. According to Training Solutions LLC, the intention of this structure is to help participants build habits gradually over the 26-week period, with sustained practice aimed at long-term application.

One aspect that distinguishes the Master Key Experience is its pay-it-forward (PIF) scholarship model. Under this structure, previous participants contribute to covering the cost of new students enrolling in the program. New participants are not asked to provide payment details at the outset. Instead, they are invited to engage with the course for the first five weeks without charge. After this initial period, students who choose to continue are asked to contribute toward future scholarship places, thereby maintaining the cycle of funding. Scholarships are allocated on a first-come, first-served basis, and available spots are limited each year.

Training Solutions LLC emphasises that the Master Key Experience is offered once annually. The next session runs from 28 September 2025 to March 2026. Individuals who complete the program will also have the option of continuing in alumni groups and accessing ongoing resources after the course concludes.

While many participants report personal and professional benefits from the program, Training Solutions LLC states that outcomes depend on individual commitment to the structured exercises and practices. The program is not presented as a quick-fix solution but rather as a structured process requiring consistent engagement over six months.

Founded by Mark and Davene Januszewski, Training Solutions LLC provides online education in the field of personal development. Both founders are certified Color Code® trainers. Mark Januszewski is a three-time best-selling author with a background in training and public speaking. Davene Januszewski is recognised for her work in designing educational experiences that focus on creativity and personal growth. Together, they have developed the Master Key Experience as the company?s flagship offering, which has been delivered worldwide in both in-person and online formats since its inception.
