

WeRank Acquires Toledo SEO Company

February 25, 2016

February 25, 2016 -
Virginia Beach, Virginia based company, WeRank, has announced the purchase of the Toledo SEO Company. The latter will now operate as WeRank Digital Marketing Agency in Toledo Ohio. The company says that while the SEO company provided services in the past, the new ownership will ensure an entirely new suite of services designed to assist businesses in all industries to realize greater online presence.

James Pemberton, spokesperson for the company, states that they will be offering SEO services for businesses in and around Toledo, Ohio. He says, "We design and optimize websites to give our clients the tools they need for online success."

Pemberton states that the company is pleased to have completed the purchase and with the new operation and suite of services that they are offering in Toledo. He explains, "Our services will include more than simple keyword choices. We offer a full suite of SEO optimized solutions including reputation management, social media marketing, and may others, that are specifically designed to help businesses increase their online awareness and really get their names out there."

The company states that they will also be offering what they refer to as Search Engine Penalty Recovery, which involves cleaning up sites and getting them back into the search engine results after they have been penalized by Google, which can happen for a number of reasons. In addition, they will be providing Amazon sales and marketing consultations to assist business owners in pushing their products onto the Amazon marketplace.

Pemberton states that not many agencies will guarantee SEO results, but the newly collaborated companies that make up WeRank will. He says that when done properly, SEO can help a business to experience much greater profits. Unfortunately the company states, not all SEO companies know what to do and how or when to do it in order to help businesses increase their online awareness. Pemberton states that with the purchase of the Toledo SEO company, WeRank will now be providing services designed to specifically help local businesses in Toledo to increase their internet awareness.
