

JJRM Flooring - London Announces Expanded Product Range to Meet Growing Market Demand

November 05, 2025

LONDON, UK - November 05, 2025 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

JJRM Flooring Ltd has announced an expansion of its flooring product range and installation services to address increasing demand across London's residential and commercial sectors. The company now offers comprehensive flooring solutions spanning luxury vinyl tile, engineered wood, safety flooring, and specialized restoration services throughout South East London and Kent.

The expansion comes as London's property market continues to evolve, with both homeowners and businesses seeking versatile flooring options that combine durability with aesthetic appeal. JJRM Flooring - Flooring London specialists have responded by broadening their inventory to include products from leading manufacturers such as Amtico, Karndean, and Westex Carpets, while maintaining their commitment to professional installation and customer service standards.

"The London flooring market has seen significant changes in recent years, with customers increasingly looking for materials that offer both style and practicality," said Riedwan Khan, Co-Founder at JJRM Flooring Ltd. "Our expanded range ensures we can meet diverse requirements, from residential carpet installations in Greenwich homes to commercial safety flooring for Woolwich businesses. Each project receives the same attention to detail and quality workmanship that has earned us over 100 five-star Google reviews."

The company's enhanced service portfolio includes nine distinct flooring categories, each tailored to specific environmental and usage requirements. Luxury vinyl tile options provide water-resistant solutions suitable for high-traffic areas, while solid wood flooring delivers natural beauty for traditional interiors. Commercial clients benefit from specialized safety flooring that meets workplace regulations and helps prevent slip-related injuries.

Beyond standard installation services, JJRM Flooring Ltd has developed expertise in specialized techniques, including carpet whipping and binding, which transforms standard carpeting into custom rugs and runners. The company also offers comprehensive wooden floor restoration services, utilizing professional sanding, polishing, and lacquering equipment to return aged floors to their original condition.

The expansion extends JJRM Flooring's service coverage across multiple London boroughs, including Blackheath, Lewisham, Charlton, Sidcup, and Bexleyheath. Each location receives full access to the company's product range, from budget-conscious laminate options to premium engineered wood solutions. The company maintains a showroom where customers can examine materials firsthand and consult with flooring specialists about their specific requirements.

Commercial clients represent a growing segment of JJRM Flooring's business, with the company now offering dedicated commercial-grade products designed to withstand intensive use. These include commercial luxury vinyl tile, heavy-duty carpeting, and anti-slip safety flooring that meets industry standards for workplace environments.

The company's approach combines traditional craftsmanship with modern installation techniques, ensuring precise fitting and alignment regardless of the chosen material. Their process includes initial consultation, detailed proposals, and efficient service delivery, backed by comprehensive work guarantees.

JJRM Flooring Ltd is a professional floor fitting company based in London, specializing in both domestic and commercial flooring solutions. With over 20 years of industry expertise, the company provides comprehensive flooring services, including supply, installation, repair, and restoration across South East London and Kent.
