Mr. Appliance of Wesley Chapel announced an expanded service schedule to accommodate increased demand for appliance repairs during the holiday season. With more technician availability and flexible scheduling, the company aims to ensure that both residential and commercial clients can keep their homes and businesses running smoothly during one of the busiest times of the year.

?As families prepare for large gatherings and holiday celebrations, the last thing they want to worry about is an oven that won?t heat or a refrigerator that stops cooling,? said Joe Cartier, spokesperson for Mr. Appliance of Wesley Chapel. ?We?ve expanded our availability to provide faster service during this critical season.?

The company?s expanded schedule highlights its full range of services, including Residential Appliance Repair, washing machine repair, oven, stove top, and range repair, refrigerator repair, dishwasher repair, and gas and electric dryer repair. On the commercial side, businesses can rely on Mr. Appliance of Wesley Chapel for repair and maintenance of essential equipment such as freezers, dishwashers, and ice machines.

In addition to repair services, the company is also promoting preventive maintenance as a way to reduce unexpected breakdowns. By scheduling regular inspections, homeowners and business operators can identify potential issues before they turn into costly emergencies. ?Appliances are used heavily during the holidays, and preventive care is one of the best ways to avoid stress and disruption,? Cartier added.

Mr. Appliance of Wesley Chapel?s technicians are trained to service all major brands and models, including the latest smart appliances. Each technician receives ongoing education to stay current on manufacturer updates and diagnostic technologies, ensuring that every repair meets the highest standards. The company emphasizes professionalism, from arriving in branded vehicles stocked with replacement parts to leaving work areas clean once the job is complete.

Convenience is also a central part of the company?s approach. Clients can book appointments online. Same-day and next-day service slots are often available, a feature that becomes especially important when hosting responsibilities are on the line. The Mr. Appliance of Wesley Chapel Facebook page offers helpful advice and information. On this page, the team also regularly shares seasonal reminders and maintenance tips.
