Tycoon.Fund, an innovative on-chain fund platform , announced its official launch of beta testnet, marking a significant breakthrough in the DeFi landscape. Built on the high-performance Hyperliquid. Tycoon.Fund's core mission is to democratize professional-grade trading. It achieves this by converting complex and often inaccessible trading strategies into simple vaults. This makes sophisticated financial tools available to a broader audience through a transparent, secure, and fully on-chain service designed to redefine decentralized finance.

The launch of Tycoon.Fund is backed by a team with a deep and proven track record in both quantitative trading and the DeFi sector. The team previously honed its skills within the BSC ecosystem, successfully designing and executing on-chain strategies on PancakeSwap. This hands-on experience, validated by a community of over 100,000 users, allowed them to refine their approach to risk management and return optimization. Following extensive market research, the team made the strategic decision to build on the Hyperliquid ecosystem. This past success was crucial, as it validated their core belief: superior trading strategies, when properly productized, can unlock immense value for the entire DeFi ecosystem.

Tycoon.Fund was conceived to address significant structural inefficiencies in the crypto market. Investors are often caught between the low single-digit APYs of blue-chip DeFi protocols and the high security risks of unaudited, high-yield farms. Furthermore, copy-trading on centralized exchanges operates as a black box, while legacy on-chain fund platforms like Enzyme and dHEDGE present high barriers to entry. Tycoon.Fund?s protocol aims to change this dynamic by connecting proven strategy providers with capital allocators through its innovative and permissionless Vaults.

The selection of Hyperliquid as the underlying infrastructure was a critical strategic decision. As the leading perpetual DEX, it offers unparalleled liquidity and performance essential for a robust on-chain trading service. Its market leadership ensures deep order books and minimizes slippage, which is crucial for executing trades effectively. Its technological superiority provides a user experience that genuinely competes with centralized exchanges, complemented by a stable ecosystem with a Total Value Locked (TVL) of over $2.2 billion.

The platform's long-term sustainability is built upon its core advantages. It offers real, sustainable yield generated from actual derivatives trading, not inflationary token subsidies. The platform also guarantees a fully on-chain and transparent mechanism. Every single trade and position change is recorded immutably on-chain for verification. This level of transparency eliminates counterparty risk and trust issues. Finally, the platform features a truly accessible design. Everyday users can access sophisticated DeFi asset management with a few clicks, while skilled vault managers are compensated with a fair performance fee, creating a symbiotic mechanism for sustainable growth. The protocol empowers both seasoned managers and retail investors by providing powerful, user-friendly tools.

The global asset management industry is valued at over $110 trillion, and Tycoon.Fund is at the forefront of migrating this model to the Web3 era. By leveraging decentralized technology, the protocol dismantles the trust barriers and high costs of traditional finance, highlighting the immense, untapped growth potential for on-chain asset management protocols. The protocol is designed to capture even a fraction of this market, offering a truly scalable and robust solution for the future.
