New School Field Trip Packages Available In Lancaster, Pennsylvania

February 26, 2016

February 26, 2016 -
Refreshing Mountain Retreat & Adventure Center, located in Stevens, PA, is proud to announce that they have fully re-designed their offering for school field trips. They have launched two brand new packages that provide a fun and educational experience for students. The two new school field trip programs are the Nature Education Package and the Adventure Education Package. Alternatively, schools can ask for custom packages to be designed for them.

Justin Harnish from Refreshing Mountain Retreat & Adventure Center says: "We are so excited to be offering these two new school field trip packages and we just know the kids are going to love it. We have made educational trips fun, and kids will have an opportunity to build memories that will last a lifetime, while at the same time actually learning some really important skills in the process. We look forward to welcoming more schools to our grounds."

The nature and adventure education packages are full of fun, educational activities. During the Nature Education Package, for instance, children will get to participate in archery, sling shot, nature science programs, a GPS nature hunt, a physical challenge course, a team scavenger hunt, orienteering, and a farm animal experience. All of these activities are designed to help build strong team relationships, encouraging children to learn about nature and to become better at working together.

The Adventure Education Package is equally hands-on. "During the Adventure Package, kids will do absolutely lots of things," adds Justin Harnish. "These include the climbing tower, pedal carts, a paintball archery course, archery, orienteering, a team scavenger hunt and more. Again, it is about fostering learning, communication and teamwork in a fun, educational environment."

Schools can also choose to have custom packages built for their classes. Here, they are able to take part in the various activities offered through the nature and adventure education packages, and also in things like horse cart rides, ziplines, wobbly logs, giant swings and ladders, high ropes, pool parties and more, including enjoying a hot buffet meal. Unsurprisingly, a lot of interest is already being raised in these trips and interested schools are encouraged to book their event soon as space is limited.
