Bark Busters Tree Service Expands Services to New Communities

September 25, 2025

HARRISON, TN - September 25, 2025 -
Bark Busters Tree Service, a licensed and insured tree care provider based in Harrison, Tennessee, has announced the expansion of its professional services into new communities across Hamilton County and nearby areas of North Georgia. The company, long recognized in Chattanooga for its reliability and adherence to industry standards, will now extend its offerings to neighborhoods and towns including Hixson, Soddy Daisy, Ooltewah, Apison, East Brainerd, and Cleveland, as well as Rossville, Ringgold, and Fort Oglethorpe across the state line.

The expansion reflects a growing demand for professional tree care across the region, as families and businesses continue to manage aging landscapes and prepare for seasonal storms that increase the risk of hazardous trees. Bark Busters Tree Service specializes in tree removals, pruning, trimming, stump grinding, and 24/7 emergency response. Each service is performed with an emphasis on safety, property protection, and compliance with recognized standards.

By extending its geographic reach, the company aims to ensure that more residents and property managers have access to professional care that prioritizes both safety and accountability. The decision to expand was guided by both community demand and the company?s ongoing commitment to respond to hazardous tree conditions quickly and effectively.

The company follows ANSI A300 pruning standards and TCIA safety practices, a framework that allows crews to manage both routine and complex projects with consistency. Hazardous removals near homes and businesses are managed with equipment such as cranes and rigging systems, while pruning and trimming projects are conducted to encourage long-term health and safety of trees. Stump grinding services remove obstacles from landscapes, ensuring properties are left safe and usable.

Owner Jimmy Moore said the expansion is a natural step forward for the business. ?This decision reflects both the growth of the communities around Chattanooga and the responsibility we have as a service provider,? Jimmy Moore stated. ?Every property deserves safe, professional tree care. By extending our services to new towns and neighborhoods, we are making sure that more families and businesses have access to reliable support during routine maintenance and after severe weather. Our team is committed to showing up, working safely, and leaving each site in better condition than before.?

The timing of the announcement follows several years in which severe weather patterns have created an increased need for emergency tree response. Storms that bring heavy winds, saturated soils, and lightning strikes have heightened risks for property owners across Tennessee and North Georgia. Expanding service coverage ensures that Bark Busters Tree Service can respond more rapidly to calls in areas previously outside its immediate range.

Community trust has played a key role in the decision to broaden operations. Positive feedback from residents has consistently cited professionalism, clear communication, and thorough cleanup as hallmarks of the company?s work. Expanding into additional areas will allow Bark Busters Tree Service to bring those same standards to a wider base of customers while maintaining a locally grounded approach.

The company emphasized that each new service area will receive the same level of care and accountability as existing clients. Residential neighborhoods will benefit from routine maintenance that reduces the risk of storm damage and enhances curb appeal, while commercial properties will have access to larger-scale removals and emergency response that protect businesses and public spaces.

As part of the expansion, Bark Busters Tree Service will increase its crew capacity and continue investing in training and equipment. This includes the use of cranes for complex removals, rigging systems for confined areas, and grinders for thorough stump elimination. These tools allow the company to manage projects of varying complexity with efficiency while minimizing disruption to surrounding landscapes.

The company also highlighted the importance of property protection in its work. Protective mats, careful rigging, and detailed cleanup procedures are standard practices designed to leave sites safe and ready for use. This focus has been recognized by customers as a defining feature of the company?s service model and will continue to guide operations in the newly added areas.

Industry observers note that expansions of this type often reflect both community demand and a track record of reliability. Bark Busters Tree Service has built its reputation by treating each project as an opportunity to reinforce trust. With service areas now including more communities in Tennessee and Georgia, the company is positioned to continue meeting the growing demand for dependable tree care.

Jimmy Moore added that the expansion is not only about responding to immediate needs but also about supporting the long-term health and safety of local landscapes. ?Tree care is more than cutting or removal,? he explained. ?It is about maintaining safe neighborhoods, protecting property, and ensuring that landscapes remain strong over time. Expanding our service area allows us to bring that focus to more communities, and it is a responsibility we take seriously.?

As the company integrates these new service areas, residents can expect the same commitment to professionalism that has guided Bark Busters Tree Service since its founding. From emergency storm response to planned maintenance, the expanded coverage reflects the company?s ongoing role as a trusted partner for property owners across Hamilton County and North Georgia.
