

Keathley Landscaping Expands Landscape Drainage and Cedar Fencing Services

October 07, 2025

GARLAND, TX - October 07, 2025 -
Keathley Landscaping, a Dallas-based landscaping company serving North Texas since 2002, announces expanded service capabilities for residential drainage solutions and cedar fence installations to meet growing demand from homeowners seeking comprehensive outdoor improvements.

The company has enhanced its drainage services with advanced solutions for properties experiencing water management challenges, while simultaneously expanding its cedar fencing offerings to include both traditional and modern design options. This expansion addresses the increasing need for integrated landscaping solutions that combine functional drainage systems with aesthetic improvements.

"Homeowners often don't realize how interconnected their outdoor systems are until water damage occurs," said Logan Keathley, owner of Keathley Landscaping. "By expanding our drainage and fencing services, we can provide comprehensive solutions that protect properties while enhancing their appearance and value. A properly installed cedar fence combined with effective drainage creates an outdoor environment that's both beautiful and functional."

Logan Keathley, owner and NDS Certified Drainage Contractor at Keathley Landscaping, brings specialized expertise to complex yard drainage problems that plague many Texas homeowners. The certification represents advanced training in drainage system design and installation, enabling the company to tackle challenging water management issues that can cause significant property damage.

The company's drainage solutions range from French drain installations and grading adjustments to custom-designed buried drainage pipelines. These systems prevent flooding, foundation damage, and landscape erosion that commonly affect Texas properties during heavy rainfall periods. The expanded services address situations where standard drainage approaches prove insufficient, offering homeowners permanent solutions to persistent water problems.

Cedar fencing services now encompass a broader range of styles, from traditional picket designs to contemporary horizontal configurations. Cedar wood provides natural resistance to decay and insects, making it particularly suitable for the Texas climate. The material's durability and minimal maintenance requirements have made it increasingly popular among homeowners seeking long-term fencing solutions.

The expansion comes as North Texas experiences continued residential growth and homeowners invest more in outdoor living spaces. Properties throughout Dallas, Garland, Wylie, Plano, and surrounding areas face unique drainage challenges due to soil composition and weather patterns, creating demand for specialized contractors who understand local conditions.

Beyond drainage and fencing, Keathley Landscaping provides comprehensive outdoor services, including stonework, retaining walls, outdoor kitchens, fire pits, sod installation, and landscape lighting. This full-service approach allows homeowners to coordinate multiple outdoor projects through a single contractor, ensuring consistency in quality and design.

The company's integrated approach addresses common scenarios where drainage issues affect fence stability or where new fencing installations require grading adjustments. By offering both services, Keathley Landscaping can ensure proper water flow around fence lines and prevent the pooling that often causes premature fence deterioration.

Keathley Landscaping has served the North Texas region for over two decades, establishing a reputation for solving complex outdoor challenges. The company specializes in transforming problematic yards into functional, attractive outdoor spaces through professional design, quality materials, and experienced installation teams. Their commitment to finding practical solutions for each property's unique challenges has made them a trusted resource for residential landscaping throughout the Dallas metropolitan area.
