

In Stock Today Cabinets Unveils Fall Kitchen Trends for 2025 at Alexandria Showroom

October 07, 2025

ALEXANDRIA, VA - October 07, 2025 -
In Stock Today Cabinets, an authorized distributor of Fabuwood cabinets, has expanded its Alexandria showroom to showcase emerging kitchen design preferences that reflect changing homeowner priorities in sustainability and smart storage solutions.

The Alexandria-based cabinet wholesaler reports that 60 percent of Northern Virginia homeowners now prioritize sustainability and durability in their cabinet selections, marking a significant shift in renovation priorities. The company has responded by featuring eco-friendly cabinet options with CARB2 compliance and sustainable wood sourcing throughout its expanded showroom space.

"The fall kitchen trends 2025 are reshaping how homeowners approach their renovation projects," said Emin Halac, President of In Stock Today Cabinets. "Environmental responsibility has become equally important as aesthetics, with customers specifically requesting materials that combine durability with sustainable sourcing. The new Fabuwood Illume frameless series exemplifies this evolution, offering both modern design and eco-conscious manufacturing."

Two-tone cabinet configurations now represent 40 percent of new installations at the company's locations across Alexandria, Fairfax, Columbia, Houston, and Delaware. Warm wood tones have emerged as the dominant choice, replacing the white cabinets that previously led the market. Floor-to-ceiling storage solutions have gained particular traction in Alexandria, where homeowners seek to maximize their architectural spaces.

The Fabuwood kitchen cabinet trends currently driving demand include pull-out pantries, hidden compartments, soft-close drawers with integrated lighting, and touch-to-open mechanisms. These features address the needs of multigenerational households, which have become increasingly common in the Northern Virginia region.

In Stock Today Cabinets has introduced advanced 3D rendering technology at its Fabuwood kitchen design showroom, allowing customers to visualize their renovation projects before making purchase decisions. The interactive design consultations, offered at no charge, enable homeowners to explore various cabinet styles including the popular Shaker Blue, Shaker Grey, and Shaker White options, along with the Allure, Quest, and Value Premium lines.

The company maintains its position as the authorized premium wholesaler of Fabuwood Cabinets in the Alexandria, Virginia area, offering delivery times of five to seven days for Fabuwood lines. Same-day pickup remains available for contractors and builders who maintain accounts with the distributor.

The showroom expansion comes as Northern Virginia experiences increased demand for kitchen remodeling projects. Industry data indicates that homeowners are investing in comprehensive storage solutions rather than cosmetic updates, with smart storage innovations becoming standard rather than premium features.

In Stock Today Cabinets operates as an authorized distributor for Fabuwood Cabinets , providing ready-to-assemble and pre-assembled cabinet options to contractors, dealers, and builders throughout Virginia, Maryland, Delaware, Texas, and the District of Columbia. The company offers a lifetime limited warranty on all Fabuwood cabinets and maintains showroom locations in Alexandria, Fairfax, Columbia, Houston, and Delaware. The Alexandria showroom serves as the company's flagship location, featuring comprehensive displays of current cabinet styles and finishes.
