IV Solution & Ketamine Centers of Chicago Highlights Anxiety Treatment Patient Success Videos

October 07, 2025

CHICAGO, IL - October 07, 2025 -
IV Solution & Ketamine Centers of Chicago has released a comprehensive collection of patient testimonial videos documenting successful treatment outcomes for individuals suffering from treatment-resistant mental health conditions and chronic pain. The video series, available on the center's YouTube channel, features firsthand accounts from patients who have undergone ketamine infusion therapy at the Chicago facility.

The compilation includes testimonials from diverse patients, including military veterans and civilians who had previously exhausted traditional treatment options. Among the featured accounts are U.S. Army Veteran Jessica B., who received treatment for PTSD, and Nicole, who found relief from anxiety, depression, and PTSD through the center's specialized ketamine protocols.

"The patient experiences we've documented demonstrate the profound impact that ketamine therapy can have on individuals who have struggled with treatment-resistant conditions," said Dr. Bal Nandra, M.D.,

Medical Director at IV Solution and Ketamine Centers of Chicago. "These testimonials represent real transformations in quality of life for patients who had lost hope after conventional treatments failed to provide adequate relief."

The center, recognized as Chicago's first private facility offering clinically proven intravenous ketamine therapies, specializes in treating depression, anxiety, PTSD, bipolar disorder, chronic pain, migraines, and fibromyalgia. The treatment protocols involve customized 45-minute ketamine infusion sessions administered in private treatment rooms under the supervision of board-certified anesthesiologists and registered nurses with specialized training.

Recent clinical studies have continued to validate ketamine's effectiveness in treating treatment-resistant depression and other mental health conditions. Research has shown that ketamine, when administered at controlled therapeutic doses, can provide rapid antidepressant effects through NMDA receptor modulation, offering accelerated improvement in severe and chronic forms of depression. "What sets our approach apart is the comprehensive nature of our treatment programs and the personalized care each patient receives," explained Dr. Nandra. "We typically recommend six ketamine infusions over two weeks, followed by maintenance infusions tailored to each patient's response and needs."

Beyond ketamine infusions, the center offers complementary therapies including Stellate Ganglion Block injections for PTSD and NAD+ therapy for cognitive enhancement. The facility has also implemented financial assistance programs through partnerships with healthcare financing organizations to ensure treatment accessibility.

The YouTube video testimonials serve as an educational resource for individuals researching alternative treatments for chronic pain, OCD, and other conditions that have not responded to traditional therapies. Each video provides insight into the patient journey, from initial consultation through treatment and recovery.

IV Solution and Ketamine Centers of Chicago operates as a specialized medical clinic providing innovative intravenous treatments for mental health conditions and chronic pain. The facility combines state-of-the-art medical technology with evidence-based treatment protocols to deliver therapeutic interventions for patients who have not found success with conventional treatments. The center maintains a multidisciplinary approach to patient care, offering comprehensive screening, customized treatment plans, and ongoing support throughout the therapeutic process.
