Riad Tile, a Dallas-based importer of handcrafted tiles, continues to expand its collection of artisanal encaustic tiles sourced from skilled craftspeople around the world. The company, which has operated from its Texas warehouse since 2017, specializes in bringing traditional tile-making techniques to modern residential and commercial projects across the United States.

The company's encaustic tile offerings encompass cement patterns, ceramic patterns, and dimensional relief ceramics, each piece reflecting centuries-old craftsmanship methods. These tiles, along with the company's extensive zellige, natural stone, and terrazzo collections, are centrally stocked at the company's warehouse facility near Dallas TX, enabling efficient distribution throughout the contiguous 48 states.

"The demand for authentic, handcrafted tiles has grown significantly as designers and homeowners seek materials that tell a story and add character to their spaces," said Jarrett Shaffer, a spokesperson for Riad Tile. "Our encaustic tiles offer that perfect blend of traditional artistry and contemporary versatility, allowing architects and designers to create spaces that are both timeless and distinctly modern. Learn more about us on our site, or in person in one of our showrooms."

The encaustic tile collection features both cement and ceramic options, with patterns ranging from classic geometric designs to artisan ceramics with dimensional relief. These tiles have found applications in diverse settings, from residential kitchens and bathrooms to commercial hospitality projects. The company maintains relationships with artisan workshops globally, ensuring consistent quality and authenticity in every tile produced.

Beyond its encaustic offerings, the company stocks an extensive range of materials, including Moroccan zellige tiles, natural stone varieties such as Calacatta Gold and Bardiglio Grey marble, terracotta, Saltillo styles, and terrazzo tiles and slabs. The company also provides breeze blocks for architectural applications and maintains a selection of wood flooring options.

To support design professionals and contractors, the company operates a dedicated trade program offering specialized benefits and maintains comprehensive resources such as installation guides and design inspiration galleries. The flat-rate shipping structure, with special rates for Texas-based projects, simplifies logistics for both individual homeowners and large-scale commercial developments.

Visitors can explore the full range of collections at https://riadtile.com/. The company also has two showrooms in Dallas and Austin, where customers can come look at tile in person. The company's commitment to stocking inventory domestically allows for quick-ship options on many popular styles, addressing the industry's need for reliable material availability.

Riad Tile was founded in 2017 as a specialty tile importer focused on bringing artisanal craftsmanship to the American market. The company operates from multiple locations in the Dallas-Fort Worth area and maintains a central warehouse facility for nationwide distribution. Through partnerships with traditional tile makers worldwide, the company continues to expand its offerings while maintaining its focus on authentic, handcrafted materials that bridge traditional techniques with contemporary design needs.
