Epic Design Labs, a Portland, Oregon based SEO company, has announced that they have opened a new office in Vancouver, Washington. The company states that the expansion allows them to better serve the needs of clients throughout the Northwest.

Kalon Wiggins, spokesperson for the company states, "We are thrilled to be announcing the opening of our Vancouver office. If you need a Portland SEO expert, or one in Washington, we have you covered."

The Portland SEO company will be providing the same services to businesses from their new Vancouver location as they currently offer in Oregon.

Epic Design Labs offers a full range of SEO services from organic SEO to pay-per-click advertising. The company says that all services offered from their Portland office will be available to those who are in Vancouver.

"We aim to help Oregon and Washington companies get found online, both by their local market as well as nationally," states Wiggins, "by offering quality search engine optimization services and website design to help businesses really reach their online audiences."

The company provides organic or algorithmic SEO, which focuses on educating businesses on how to best reach their audiences to improve page views on local websites and online sales through ecommerce stores. Pay-per-click services are designed to help businesses increase their online presence as well, and the company offers consultations to determine which plans are best for each individual business.

By opening a second office location in Vancouver, Wiggins states that the company hopes to be able to better serve clients who feel that the Portland office may be too far. Staff members at both office locations are highly experienced in SEO and other aspects of online business building, to ensure that all clients receive the highest level of service possible.

The company states that the Vancouver office is now open and operating and those businesses interested in learning more can contact them at either office location for a consultation. SEO experts will speak with the business owner to ensure that they know what they want to accomplish and develop a plan that will help the business to reach their goal of more website visitors and ultimately, higher sales. Those interested can also learn more on the company's official website.
