Berks Plastic Surgery Hosts Non-Surgical Body Contouring Educational Event

October 09, 2025

October 09, 2025 -
Berks Plastic Surgery announced it is hosting a "Fall Into Confidence" educational event on Monday, October 13th, offering patients the opportunity to learn about non-surgical body contouring treatment options available at the practice. The day-long event will feature both daytime drop-in consultations from 8:00 AM to 4:00 PM and an evening presentation with Q&A session from 5:30 PM to 8:30 PM, focusing on patient education and treatment information.

Dr. Brian K. Reedy, a board-certified plastic surgeon, emphasizes the importance of patient education as the aesthetic industry continues to evolve. "Fall has always been an ideal time for patients to consider body contouring treatments because it allows them to work towards their desired results before the holiday season," explained Dr. Reedy. "What excites us most about this event is the opportunity to educate patients about advanced non-surgical options that can deliver remarkable results without the downtime associated with traditional surgical procedures."

The event will provide comprehensive information about non-surgical body contouring procedures currently offered at the practice. Educational content will cover treatment processes, patient selection criteria, and realistic expectations for various non-surgical approaches to aesthetic enhancement. The practice will present detailed information about FDA-approved treatment options available to patients considering non-surgical alternatives.

"Many patients come to us with questions about areas of their body that don't respond to diet and exercise," explained Dr. Reedy. "This educational event addresses those questions by providing detailed information about available treatment options, patient suitability factors, and expected outcomes. Our goal is to ensure patients have comprehensive information to make informed decisions about their care."

The practice operates under the leadership of Dr. Reedy alongside plastic surgeon Dr. Scott C. Lindsay. Together, they provide comprehensive aesthetic services from their Wyomissing location, serving patients throughout Berks County and surrounding Pennsylvania areas. The "Fall Into Confidence" event will feature seasonal refreshments throughout the day, and both the daytime and evening attendance options include private consultations with the expert team for personalized information based on individual goals and concerns.

"What I hope patients take away from this event is confidence in their decision-making process," said Dr. Reedy. "Whether someone is considering their first aesthetic treatment or looking to learn about additional options, we want them to feel informed, comfortable, and confident about their choices. 'Fall Into Confidence' represents our commitment to making aesthetic education accessible and approachable for everyone."
