Partywalls London Expands Party Wall Vicennium Surveyor Services Across Camden Borough

November 14, 2025

London, UK - November 14, 2025 -
Partywalls London has announced expanded party wall surveying services throughout the London Borough of Camden, addressing increased demand for specialized property boundary expertise in one of Inner London's most culturally diverse areas.

The expansion encompasses comprehensive party wall services across Camden's varied neighborhoods, from the commercial hub of Camden Town to residential areas including Kentish Town, Hampstead, Belsize Park, and Primrose Hill. The company provides essential surveying services for property owners navigating party wall agreements, disputes, and construction requirements under the Party Wall Act 1996.

Party walls, the shared structures between adjoining properties, require careful legal consideration when construction or renovation work is planned. Property owners must serve notice at least two months before commencing any work that affects these shared boundaries, making professional surveying services crucial for compliance and neighborly relations.

"Camden presents unique challenges for party wall matters due to its diverse architectural heritage and dense urban development," said Chris Cooper, Director of Surveying Operations at Partywalls London. "From Victorian terraces in Kentish Town to modern developments near Kings Cross, each property requires specialized knowledge to ensure legal compliance and protect the interests of both building owners and adjoining owners."

The company's services include party wall advice at the design stage, preparation and serving of party wall notices, schedules of condition, neighbor liaison, party wall awards, boundary advice, and oversail agreements. These services help property owners navigate the complex legal requirements while maintaining positive relationships with neighboring properties.

Vicennium Surveyors-PartyWalls Camden operates as part of Vicennium Surveyors LLP, maintaining membership with the Royal Institution of Chartered Surveyors, the Chartered Institute of Arbitrators, and the Pyramus and Thisbe Society. These professional affiliations ensure adherence to industry standards and best practices in party wall surveying.

The expansion comes as Camden continues to experience significant property development and renovation activity. The borough, established in 1965 from former metropolitan boroughs and governed by Camden London Borough Council, encompasses landmarks including the British Museum and Camden Market, making it a focal point for both residential and commercial property matters.

Party wall disputes can arise when property owners disagree about proposed construction work. In such cases, professional surveyors act as impartial experts, preparing schedules of condition to document property states before work begins and ensuring fair party wall awards that protect all parties' interests.

The company also provides expert witness services for party wall disputes that escalate to legal proceedings, offering technical expertise and professional testimony based on extensive experience in Camden's property landscape.

Partywalls London specializes in neighborly matters, particularly in party walls and right to light issues. The firm offers bespoke solutions tailored to each case, providing transparent cost estimates and responsive service throughout the party wall process. Their expertise extends to structural engineering for party walls, building consent procedures, and legal representation for complex party wall disputes across the Camden borough.
