

HIIT FIT Boxing LLC Announces Plans to Bring Combat-Inspired Fitness to Cape Coral

October 16, 2025

CAPE CORAL, FL - October 16, 2025 -

HIIT FIT Boxing has announced plans to establish a new boxing fitness facility in Cape Coral, Southwest Florida, bringing high-intensity interval training combined with authentic boxing fundamentals to the area. While no official launch date has been set, the company confirms the facility will offer flexible drop-in classes designed to accommodate members' schedules without the constraints of overbooked class times.

"We're creating a space where fitness for all levels isn't just a promise, it's the foundation of everything we do," said Jack Lombardi III, founder of HIIT FIT Boxing. "Our drop-in model eliminates the frustration of waiting lists and rigid class schedules. Members can train when it works best for them, whether that's early morning, lunch hour, or evening."

The upcoming facility will specialize in combat athlete-inspired workouts tailored specifically for beginner to intermediate fitness enthusiasts. The programming combines real boxing techniques with high-intensity interval training, creating a comprehensive workout system that can be completed in under 45 minutes.

The facility's signature 12-round workout format mirrors professional fighter training camps while remaining accessible to those new to boxing. Each session incorporates bag work for endurance and coordination, HIIT intervals for cardiovascular conditioning, strength training for balance and power, and dedicated recovery periods for injury prevention.

Unlike traditional group fitness classes that focus solely on cardio or bodyweight exercises, the program integrates authentic boxing fundamentals throughout each workout. Expert coaches will provide personalized technique tips, combination sequences, and pace adjustments during every round, ensuring participants receive focused instruction regardless of their experience level.

"The town of Cape Coral Florida has shown tremendous enthusiasm for innovative fitness concepts," added Lombardi. "We're responding to that demand by creating a training environment where members can experience the physical and mental benefits of boxing without the intimidation factor often associated with traditional boxing gyms."

The facility will also offer semi-private personal training sessions for those seeking more individualized attention, whether their goals involve fat loss, technique improvement, or fight-style conditioning. Additional services will include heart rate training, nutrition support, and specialized programs for youth and women's training.

The drop-in structure represents a departure from conventional gym membership models, allowing members to purchase flexible packages or pay per session. This approach accommodates varying schedules and commitment levels while maintaining the quality and consistency of instruction.

HIIT FIT Boxing Cape Coral represents part of a broader expansion plan for the brand, with additional locations planned throughout Florida, including Fort Myers, Naples, Sarasota, Port Charlotte, St. Petersburg, Tampa, Boca Raton, Fort Lauderdale, and Miami.

The company specializes in making boxing-inspired fitness accessible to mainstream audiences through scalable intensity levels and beginner-friendly instruction. The training methodology emphasizes full-body strength development, efficient fat burning, enhanced mental focus, and stress relief through the dynamic nature of boxing movements that activate every major muscle group while improving coordination and reaction time.
