Inland Cosmetic Surgery Announces Week of Beauty Patient Appreciation Event

October 20, 2025

RANCHO CUCAMONGA, CA - October 20, 2025 -
Rancho Cucamonga-based Inland Cosmetic Surgery announced it will host a "Week of Beauty" patient appreciation event from October 20-24, 2025, featuring both virtual educational sessions and an in-person evening event designed to provide aesthetic treatment education and patient recognition. The week-long program will include daily virtual webinars and conclude with a ticketed appreciation event on Thursday, October 23, 2025.

Practice director and cosmetic surgeon Dr. Jacob Haiavy, MD, FACS, explained the educational focus behind the event. "This event represents our commitment to patient education and appreciation," said Dr. Haiavy. "We designed the Week of Beauty to provide comprehensive information about aesthetic treatments while recognizing the trust our patients place in our practice. Patient education has always been fundamental to our approach to aesthetic medicine."

The event will begin with virtual educational webinars titled "The Beauty Soirée: Virtual Edition" running Monday through Friday at 12:30 PM and 7:00 PM Pacific Time. These sessions will feature live demonstrations of non-surgical procedures and educational content about aesthetic treatment options available at the practice. The virtual format allows patients throughout the region and beyond to participate regardless of scheduling constraints or geographic location.

"Patient education remains central to everything we do," explained Dr. Emma Ryan, DO, who practices alongside Dr. Haiavy at the Rancho Cucamonga facility. "These webinar sessions provide detailed information about treatment processes, patient selection criteria, and realistic expectations for various aesthetic procedures. Our goal is ensuring patients have the comprehensive information needed to make informed decisions about their care."

The educational webinars will cover topics including advanced injection techniques, laser therapy applications, and non-surgical body contouring options. Each session will include dedicated time for patient questions and detailed explanations of treatment protocols. The practice's experienced medical team will present information about safety considerations, recovery timelines, and expected outcomes for various procedures.

The week will conclude with an in-person Patient Appreciation Event on Thursday, October 23, 2025, from 6:00 PM to 8:00 PM at the practice's main location at 8680 Monroe Court, Rancho Cucamonga, CA 91730. The ticketed event, priced at $50, will include educational presentations, networking opportunities with the medical team, and a question-and-answer session with both cosmetic surgeons.

"The in-person event creates an opportunity for direct interaction between patients and our clinical team in a relaxed educational environment," said Dr. Haiavy. "Attendees will receive detailed information about treatment options, participate in educational discussions, and connect with other patients who share similar aesthetic goals. This personal interaction enhances the educational experience significantly."

The evening event will feature refreshments and educational activities designed to inform patients about the latest developments in aesthetic medicine. Attendees will have opportunities to interact with expert injectors and estheticians while learning about advanced treatment techniques and safety protocols in cosmetic procedures.

Together, Dr. Haiavy, Dr. Ryan, and the Inland Cosmetic Surgery team have performed over 30,000 procedures in a state-of-the-art, fully accredited outpatient surgery center and medical spas. The practice operates multiple locations including associated medical spas Ahava Medspa and Made You Look, serving patients throughout the Inland Empire region of Southern California.
