Clear Mold Launches the First-of-Its-Kind Online Community to Help Millions Heal from Mold and Candida Exposure

October 22, 2025

CHARLESTON, SC - October 22, 2025 -
The Charleston-based company offers a brand new digital community providing education, detox guidance, and environmental solutions.

Clear Mold, LLC, today announced the launch of the Clear Mold Community, an online membership program designed to make mold detox education, expert guidance, and community support accessible to anyone, anywhere. The new platform centers around the Clear Mold Detox Protocol, a practical, step-by-step approach to addressing mold and Candida-related symptoms. The company?s mission is to empower individuals with the knowledge, tools, and support they need to safely detox both their environment and their bodies.

Nearly half of U.S. homes contain mold, and exposure has been linked to respiratory illness, asthma, fatigue, and chronic inflammation. According to the World Health Organization, dampness and mold increase the risk of respiratory illness by 30 to 50 percent, and in the United States alone, an estimated 4.6 million asthma cases are connected to mold exposure.

Traditional remediation can cost thousands of dollars, while medical diagnoses are often missed or delayed. Clear Mold fills a growing need by providing an accessible, affordable, and holistic solution that combines environmental education, detox guidance, and community support to help individuals safely recover from mold and Candida exposure.

?Clear Mold is the resource I wish I?d had when I was healing, a wellness platform, support system, and lifestyle designed for anyone dealing with mold, Candida, or chronic symptoms,? said Karen Hubert, Founder, CNHP, N.C. ?If you?ve ever felt dismissed or discouraged, you?re not alone, and you?re in the right place.?

The Clear Mold Community features multiple membership options, including a free plan, to make recovery guidance accessible to everyone. Members receive access to educational materials, community discussions, wellness tools, and ongoing support, all delivered through a secure online portal. Clear Mold also offers at-home assessments and lab testing options, allowing members to take meaningful steps toward recovery without the need for travel, clinics, or costly appointments.

?When I was struggling with chronic fatigue symptoms, Karen took the time to speak with me one-on-one, sharing her own healing journey and guiding me toward options that supported my recovery. Her insight and encouragement helped me take steps that have transformed my health and my life,? said Keri Arnold, Health Coach, MS, CCC-SLP.

The Clear Mold Community is available globally and can be accessed entirely online, making it an ideal solution for individuals in both urban and rural settings.

For more information or to join the Clear Mold Community, visit www.clearmold.com.

About Clear Mold

Clear Mold is a wellness platform dedicated to helping individuals address mold and Candida-related illness through education, community, and practical recovery tools. Based in Charleston, SC, and serving clients worldwide, Clear Mold offers a range of at-home assessments and lab testing options, a curated supplement store, and access to recommended modalities specifically designed to support detoxification from mold and Candida. The company also provides the most effective home and environmental products on the market, proven to neutralize and eliminate mycotoxins, helping people create healthier spaces for recovery and long-term wellness.

Learn more at www.clearmold.com.

Media Contact:
Press Office ? Clear Mold, LLC
Email: info@clearmold.com
Website: www.clearmold.com
Charleston, South Carolina
###
For more information about Clear Mold LLC, contact the company here:Clear MoldAnitainfo@clearmold.comCharleston, South Carolina

Clear Mold LLC

Clear Mold is a Charleston-based wellness platform helping people recover from mold and Candida illness worldwide. We offer at-home testing, supplements, detox support, and proven products to eliminate mycotoxins and create healthier spaces.

Website: https://www.clearmold.com

Email: info@clearmold.com