

RemediH2O Expands Service Territory Across Colorado's Western Slope

October 28, 2025

SILT, CO - October 28, 2025 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

RemediH2O, a disaster response company specializing in water damage, mold remediation, and fire restoration, has expanded its service area to better serve residential and commercial property owners throughout Colorado's Western Slope and Roaring Fork Valley regions.

The expansion enables the company to provide faster response times and comprehensive damage restoration services to communities from Aspen to Grand Junction, including Glenwood Springs, Carbondale, Basalt, Snowmass, Eagle, Vail, and numerous other municipalities. The company maintains 24-hour emergency response capabilities with typical arrival times within one to two hours of initial contact.

"This expansion represents our commitment to serving Colorado communities when they need us most," said Tristen Morganstein, Operations Director at RemediH2O. "Natural disasters and property emergencies don't follow a schedule, and by extending our service territory, we can ensure more property owners have access to professional restoration services when time is critical."

The expanded service area comes as Colorado continues to experience diverse weather patterns that can lead to property damage, from winter pipe bursts to summer flooding events. The company's IICRC-certified technicians provide water extraction, structural drying, mold remediation, fire and smoke damage cleanup, and biohazard remediation services.

RemediH2O handles a comprehensive range of water-related emergencies including basement flooding, crawl space water infiltration, burst pipes, sump pump failures, sewage backups, appliance leaks, and roof damage. The company also addresses water damage resulting from firefighting efforts, providing complete restoration services that return properties to pre-loss condition.

For properties affected by mold growth, the company conducts thorough inspections that include visual assessments, moisture level testing, and detailed reporting of findings. Their remediation teams address mold problems stemming from poor ventilation, HVAC condensation, window leaks, and existing water damage in both residential and commercial settings.

"Property damage can be overwhelming for owners, whether it's from flooding, fire, or other disasters," added Morganstein. "Our expanded presence means we can respond more quickly across the region, helping to minimize damage and reduce the overall impact on families and businesses."

The company also provides specialized services including crime scene cleanup and biohazard remediation, handling sensitive situations with appropriate protocols and discretion. Fire restoration services encompass property securing, smoke odor elimination, contents cleaning, and structural repairs, with teams boarding up damaged areas to maintain security during the restoration process.

RemediH2O maintains full licensing and insurance for all restoration services, including comprehensive liability coverage. The company holds Better Business Bureau accreditation and IICRC certifications in water, mold, and fire restoration disciplines. With the service area expansion, the company now covers Colorado's entire Western Slope region, including communities in Delta, Fruita, Rifle, Silt, New Castle, De Beque, Parachute, Gypsum, and Edwards.

Based in Colorado, RemediH2O provides round-the-clock emergency response for water damage, mold remediation, flood restoration, fire damage cleanup, and biohazard remediation services throughout the Western Slope and Roaring Fork Valley regions.
