

Five Star Jewelers Celebrates Over 35 Years of Excellence in Fine Jewelry and Community Service

October 23, 2025

HIALEAH, FL - October 23, 2025 -
Five Star Jewelers marks more than 35 years of operation as a family-owned jewelry business serving the Miami community with quality craftsmanship and ethical practices. The company has grown from a small family jeweler to a network of six stores, offering a range of fine jewelry, custom designs, and related services while maintaining a commitment to community involvement.

Founded by Jorge Carvajal, Five Star Jewelers started with a focus on making fine jewelry accessible through in-house financing and a dedication to Cuban heritage. Over the decades, the business has expanded its offerings to include ethically sourced gems, lab-grown diamonds, Cuban chains, Rolex watches, and luxury bags. Customers can access services such as custom jewelry design, expert repairs, and professional appraisals at each location. The inclusion of lab-grown diamonds reflects the company's response to industry shifts toward sustainable alternatives, providing options that align with environmental considerations.

The team at Five Star Jewelers consists of over 80 professionals who operate under core values of innovation, integrity, and family-oriented service. Employees benefit from wellness programs including massage therapy, chiropractic care, nutrition consultations, and gym memberships, which contribute to a supportive work environment. This approach extends to customer interactions, where staff aim to create educational and enjoyable experiences.

In addition to its business operations, Five Star Jewelers maintains active community involvement through a dedicated philanthropic department. Initiatives include volunteer trips with Habitat for Humanity, fundraising for St. Jude Children's Research Hospital, support for clean water projects, and the Mr. Dupree Business Scholarship for young entrepreneurs. These efforts demonstrate the company's ethical approach to serving the broader community.

Jorge Carvajal, founder of Five Star Jewelers, reflected on the milestone. "From the onset of my career, I recognized the immense potential of this industry?not solely for profit but for enriching lives," said Carvajal. "I have personally witnessed the joy and prosperity that stem from diligent work and heartfelt service."

The company also prioritizes ethical sourcing and sustainability in its product lines. Lab-grown diamonds, for instance, offer a sustainable option that mirrors the properties of natural diamonds while addressing environmental concerns. This aligns with broader industry trends where consumers seek responsible choices in fine jewelry.

With stores across Miami, including its jewelry store in Hialeah, FL, Five Star Jewelers serves a diverse customer base. Each location functions as a welcoming space where knowledgeable associates assist with selections and provide insights into jewelry care and trends.

Carvajal added a second perspective on the company's growth. "At Five Star Jewelers, we are more than employees; we are a family, united in our pursuit of excellence, living with integrity, and prioritizing our shared goals," said Carvajal. "Every day with us is an opportunity to grow stronger as a team and to witness the positive impact on finances, health, and family life."

The educational aspect of the business appears in its online resources, which cover topics such as the history of lab-grown diamonds, composite diamonds, and the craftsmanship behind Cuban link chains. These materials help inform customers about product options and industry developments.

Five Star Jewelers continues to adapt to market changes, including fluctuations in the diamond sector. As lab-grown diamonds experience price adjustments, the company maintains a selection that caters to varying budgets without compromising quality.

The milestone of over 35 years underscores the company's stability in an evolving industry. From its beginnings rooted in cultural traditions to its current role as a comprehensive jewelry provider, Five Star

Jewelers has built a reputation based on trust and quality.

Five Star Jewelers operates as a Miami-based family business with six locations throughout the area. The company specializes in fine jewelry, including diamonds, gems, and custom pieces, alongside services like repairs and appraisals. Through its commitment to ethical practices and community support, Five Star Jewelers has established itself as a fixture in the local jewelry landscape.
