Dentistry First Expands Patient-Focused Dental Care with Enhanced Service Offerings

October 24, 2025

Mooloolaba, QLD - October 24, 2025 -
Dentistry First, a dental clinic based in Mooloolaba, has announced the enhancement of its primary dental services, offering improved treatment options to patients across the Sunshine Coast. The development reflects the clinic?s ongoing commitment to prevention-focused care, advanced prosthodontics, and community-based dentistry.

Founded in 2021, Dentistry First has established itself as a trusted provider of preventive, cosmetic, and restorative dental services. With the introduction of newly enhanced service offerings, the clinic is expanding its capacity to deliver precise, patient-centred care that meets the evolving needs of families and individuals in Mooloolaba and surrounding suburbs including Buderim, Mons, Sippy Downs, and Kunda Park.

The enhanced services include strengthened approaches to routine dental check-ups, periodontal treatment, restorative dentistry, and prosthodontic solutions such as crowns, bridges, implants, and dentures. The improvements are the result of continuous investment in technology, professional development, and expanded staffing, allowing Dentistry First to better meet patient expectations for modern dental care.

Dentistry First is led by principal dentist Dr. Jason Phan, who holds a Master of Clinical Dentistry in Fixed and Removable Prosthodontics from King?s College London. His advanced training has shaped the clinic?s reputation for handling complex restorative and prosthodontic cases. With the latest service developments, Dr. Jason Phan has emphasised the importance of aligning dental care with long-term oral health outcomes rather than short-term fixes.

?The enhancements we have introduced are designed to give patients greater confidence in their treatment choices,? said Dr. Jason Phan. ?Dentistry today is about prevention, education, and precision. By continually improving our services, we are ensuring patients across the Sunshine Coast can access reliable care that protects their oral health for years to come.?

Among the business highlights contributing to this expansion is the clinic?s achievement of surpassing 100 five-star reviews on Google. Patient feedback has consistently recognised the professionalism of the team, the supportive and family-friendly environment, and the emphasis on clear communication. These reviews have underscored the trust Dentistry First has built in the local community, reinforcing the decision to enhance and expand services further.

The clinic has also expanded its team in recent years, welcoming clinicians such as Dr. Calvin Kundi, who brings experience from London and broadens the scope of patient care available in Mooloolaba. This addition has allowed Dentistry First to increase appointment availability and strengthen service capacity, ensuring timely access to both preventive and restorative treatments.

Accessibility has been another key focus of the clinic?s enhancements. Dentistry First now offers flexible payment arrangements through Afterpay and Humm, enabling patients to manage costs while prioritising oral health. Free consultations for services such as dentures, implants, and aligners have also been introduced, giving patients the opportunity to explore treatment options with clarity before making decisions. These initiatives reflect the clinic?s stated goal of making dentistry more approachable for families across the region.

The improvements to main services are also informed by Dentistry First?s guiding philosophy of prevention over intervention. By investing in modern diagnostic tools such as digital imaging and periodontal charting, the clinic has enhanced its ability to identify potential issues at earlier stages. This preventive focus reduces the need for invasive procedures and allows patients to maintain natural teeth longer.

For patients requiring restorative or prosthodontic solutions, the enhanced services provide access to precision treatments designed to balance both function and aesthetics. The clinic?s use of advanced materials such as porcelain and zirconia in crowns and bridges ensures durability alongside a natural appearance, while implant services are supported by modern planning techniques to achieve stable, long-term outcomes.

Community engagement has also shaped the decision to enhance services. Dentistry First has observed increased demand across the Sunshine Coast as population growth fuels greater need for healthcare providers. Residents of Buderim, Mons, and surrounding suburbs have sought access to preventive and restorative dentistry, and Dentistry First has positioned itself to meet those needs through expansion and improvement of its service offerings.

Reflecting on the broader significance of the enhancements, Dr. Jason Phan noted the role of trust in dentistry. ?Every patient interaction is built on trust,? he said. ?The decision to enhance our services is directly tied to the feedback we receive from patients who expect both professionalism and compassion. The changes reflect our commitment to meeting those expectations with precision and care.?

The introduction of enhanced services marks a new stage in Dentistry First?s growth as a local provider. The clinic has balanced expansion with its original mission of delivering preventive and patient-focused dentistry, ensuring that advancements in technology and expertise directly benefit those seeking care. For the Sunshine Coast community, the improvements offer reassurance that high-quality dental services are available locally and are being adapted to meet changing needs.

Dentistry First?s newly enhanced services highlight a commitment to maintaining long-term oral health, supporting patients with preventive education, and delivering restorative treatments with precision. By combining professional expertise, modern technology, and a patient-first approach, the clinic continues to strengthen its role within the Sunshine Coast healthcare landscape.
