

NextDAY Cabinets Partners with Kith Kitchens to Expand Premium Cabinetry Distribution

November 03, 2025

Chantilly, VA - November 03, 2025 -
NextDAY Cabinets Chantilly Showroom announces its strategic partnership with Kith Kitchens, a leading Alabama-based manufacturer of custom cabinetry, to provide expanded access to premium cabinet solutions for contractors, dealers, and builders across the Mid-Atlantic and Chicago markets.

The partnership combines NextDAY Cabinets' established wholesale distribution network with Kith Kitchens' 27-year legacy of premium craftsmanship and manufacturing excellence. This collaboration addresses the growing demand for high-quality, competitively priced cabinetry among trade professionals seeking reliable supply chain solutions.

NextDAY Cabinets operates six showroom locations including facilities in Chantilly, Alexandria, Beltsville, Richmond, Woodbridge, and Chicago. The company specializes in wholesale distribution of all-wood kitchen cabinets and bathroom vanities, offering factory-direct pricing and rapid fulfillment with 3-5 day lead times. Their Chantilly location at 14000 Thunderbolt Place serves as a central hub for contractors and builders seeking Kitchen Cabinets Chantilly solutions.

"This partnership represents a significant advancement in how we serve the professional trade community," said a spokesperson for NextDAY Cabinets Chantilly Showroom. "By combining our distribution efficiency with Kith Kitchens' manufacturing expertise and product lines including KITH, Eudora, KithOne, and Mouser Cabinetry, we can deliver unprecedented value to contractors managing multi-family projects and custom residential builds."

Kith Kitchens brings nearly three decades of family-owned manufacturing experience to the partnership. The Haleyville, Alabama-based company has built its reputation on integrity, relationship-building, and modern manufacturing processes that incorporate advanced automation technology. Their commitment to American-made craftsmanship and lifetime warranty coverage aligns with NextDAY Cabinets' focus on quality and reliability.

The collaboration enables trade professionals to access an expanded portfolio of cabinet styles, finishes, and customization options. Contractors and dealers can leverage professional design consultation services, same-day pickup availability, and flexible delivery options to meet project timelines and budget requirements. The partnership particularly benefits multi-family developers and commercial project managers who require consistent quality and reliable supply chains.

NextDAY Cabinets' wholesale model exclusively serves professional contractors, dealers, and builders rather than retail customers. This B2B focus ensures competitive pricing structures and dedicated support for trade partners. The company's professional design services help optimize kitchen and bathroom layouts while considering space utilization, style preferences, and project budgets.

The expanded product offering includes solid wood, plywood, MDF, and laminate options across multiple cabinet configurations. Trade professionals seeking Cabinets in Chantilly VA can access both ready-to-assemble and semi-custom solutions, with framed and frameless designs available for various project specifications.

NextDAY Cabinets maintains its commitment to serving the professional trade community through its wholesale distribution model. The company offers comprehensive resources including measuring guides, cabinet care information, and professional design consultations. Their showroom network provides hands-on access to cabinet door samples, allowing contractors to assess materials, colors, and finishes before finalizing project specifications.
