

S & J Printing Expands Custom Business Apparel Printing for Local Companies

October 29, 2025

ORANGE PARK, FL - October 29, 2025 -
S & J Printing, a screen printing company based in Orange Park, Florida, has expanded its custom business apparel services to meet growing demand from local companies seeking professional branded clothing and uniforms. The expansion addresses the increasing need for high-quality logo printing on work apparel across Clay County, Duval County, and St. Johns County.

The expanded services focus on providing small and medium-sized businesses with durable, professional apparel that enhances brand consistency and strengthens company identity. The shop now offers comprehensive logo printing solutions on a wide range of garments, including polos, work shirts, uniforms, jackets, caps, and safety gear suitable for various industries, from contractors and restaurants to schools and non-profit organizations.

The company utilizes advanced screen printing techniques designed specifically for business apparel that must withstand frequent washing and daily wear. This focus on durability has made S & J Printing particularly popular among contractors, field service teams, and delivery personnel who require clothing that maintains its professional appearance despite challenging work conditions.

"Local businesses are recognizing that professional branded apparel does more than just identify employees?it builds team unity and presents a cohesive brand image to customers," said Jeff Fravala, a spokesperson from the S & J Printing shop. "We've invested in state-of-the-art equipment and premium inks to ensure every piece we produce meets the durability standards required for tough work environments while maintaining sharp, vibrant prints that represent our clients' brands effectively."

The expansion comes as the company maintains strong customer satisfaction ratings, including a perfect 5.0 rating based on 139 Google Business Profile reviews and a 4.9 rating from 36 Facebook reviews. These ratings reflect the company's commitment to quality, fast turnaround times, and personalized service that helps businesses of all sizes achieve their branding goals.

Local businesses benefit from the convenience of working with a nearby screen printing provider, eliminating shipping delays and allowing for direct consultation on design and material choices. The company offers various fabric options ranging from standard cotton to moisture-wicking materials, ensuring appropriate selections for different work environments and employee comfort requirements.

The enhanced services also support businesses in maintaining brand consistency across their entire team, from front-office staff to field crews. This comprehensive approach to business apparel printing helps companies project professionalism while fostering employee pride and team cohesion.

S & J Printing company serves the Northeast Florida region, including Jacksonville, Orange Park, and St. Augustine. The locally owned and operated business has established itself as a partner for organizations seeking reliable screen printing services with attention to detail and customer-specific requirements. The company specializes in custom t-shirt printing, business forms, trade show products, and various marketing materials alongside its core screen printing services.
