GARLAND, TX - November 11, 2025 -
Keathley Landscaping, a Dallas-based landscape contractor serving North Texas since 2002, has expanded its yard drainage solutions to address increasingly complex water management challenges facing Texas homeowners. The expansion comes as property owners throughout the region seek comprehensive solutions to prevent costly water damage and transform problematic outdoor spaces.

The expanded services combine advanced drainage engineering with the company's established expertise in custom stonework and landscape design. As an NDS Certified Drainage Contractor, the company now offers enhanced capabilities ranging from French drain installation and strategic grading to large-scale custom-designed buried drainage pipeline systems.

"Texas homeowners are dealing with more severe drainage challenges as weather patterns become increasingly unpredictable," said Logan Keathley, owner and NDS Certified Drainage Contractor at Keathley

Landscaping. "Poor drainage can cause thousands of dollars in damage that insurance typically won't cover. We've expanded our drainage capabilities to provide innovative solutions that protect homes while maintaining the aesthetic appeal of outdoor spaces."

The comprehensive drainage solutions address a critical need in North Texas, where clay soil and sudden heavy rainfall create unique water management challenges. The company's approach involves thorough property assessment to identify problem areas and design customized systems that effectively redirect water away from foundations and living spaces.

Beyond drainage solutions, the company continues to provide its full range of outdoor services including natural and modern stonework installations. These services encompass retaining walls and veneers that serve both functional drainage purposes and aesthetic enhancement. The company also specializes in outdoor living spaces, creating outdoor kitchens, fireplaces, and fire pits that transform yards into functional entertainment areas.

The integration of drainage expertise with landscape design capabilities allows property owners to address water management issues while simultaneously enhancing their outdoor environments. Flowerbed borders crafted from stone materials provide both definition to landscape designs and improved water flow patterns. The company's sod installation services complement drainage work by establishing healthy lawns that naturally assist with water absorption.

"Effective drainage isn't just about moving water?it's about creating comprehensive outdoor solutions that work together," added Keathley. "When drainage contractors allen residents trust combine technical expertise with quality landscape design, the result is both a protected investment and an enhanced living space."

The expanded services reflect growing demand for integrated landscape solutions that address both practical concerns and aesthetic preferences. Property owners increasingly seek contractors who can manage complex projects from initial drainage assessment through complete landscape transformation, including fence installation and repair, patio covers, and tree services.

Keathley Landscaping has established itself as a comprehensive outdoor solutions provider throughout the Dallas metropolitan area, including Garland, Wylie, Plano, and Rockwall.
