Clareo Empowers Patients with Personalized Male Cosmetic Surgery in Concord

October 29, 2025

CHESTNUT HILL, MA - October 29, 2025 -
Clareo Plastic Surgery, a cosmetic and aesthetic practice serving the Boston area, provides personalized male cosmetic care with an emphasis on precision and patient choice. Using techniques such as fat transfer to muscle and targeted body contouring, men can achieve refined definition and results that complement their existing physique. Patients in Concord seeking male cosmetic surgery can explore individualized treatment plans developed in collaboration with board-certified surgeons.

The clinic?s Male Muscle Makeover combines precision liposuction with fat transfer to areas such as the chest, arms, shoulders, and abdomen. This method uses a patient?s own tissue to enhance muscle definition and maintain natural movement. While not unique to Clareo, fat transfer to muscle remains an uncommon option among Boston-area practices. As with any surgical procedure, recovery varies; most patients can expect several days of downtime, with gradual improvement in contour and definition over the following months.

Board-certified surgeons Dr. Michael Tantillo and Dr. Christopher Lee oversee all surgical procedures. Dr. Tantillo focuses on balanced aesthetic outcomes for both male and female patients, while Dr. Lee emphasizes attentive care and detailed patient education. Both surgeons adhere to safety protocols consistent with FDA-cleared liposuction systems and current plastic surgery standards.

Patient care at Clareo Plastic Surgery begins with an in-depth consultation at the practice?s Chestnut Hill location. This session reviews goals, anatomy, and available treatment options, allowing patients to make informed decisions based on realistic expectations. Post-operative monitoring and follow-up visits support healing and help maintain long-term results.

Clareo?s approach centers on long-term wellness and sustainable outcomes. Its procedures are designed to complement ongoing fitness and lifestyle efforts, focusing on proportionate, natural-looking enhancement rather than dramatic alteration. The practice also provides non-surgical and wellness treatments, including bioidentical hormone therapy (EvexiPEL®), cosmetic injectables, and non-invasive body contouring, to support overall health and appearance.

Serving Greater Boston and beyond, Clareo provides both in-person and virtual consultations, along with post-operative guidance for patients who may not be local. This flexibility allows access to detailed procedural information and coordinated follow-up care for those considering male cosmetic surgery in Concord.
