

Perla Images Announces Office Relocation to Better Serve Clients

October 30, 2025

HYANNIS, MA - October 30, 2025 -
Perla Images Cape Cod Wedding Photographer today announced the relocation of its primary office to 100 Independence Drive, Hyannis, MA 02601. The move consolidates the studio?s client-facing operations and positions the company closer to frequently serviced Cape Cod venues while maintaining coverage across Greater Boston and New England.

The new office will host consultations, project planning, and production coordination. Perla Images Cape Cod Wedding Photographer will begin meeting clients at the Hyannis location immediately, with no interruption to scheduled assignments or delivery timelines.

?Relocating our office enables us to be more accessible to couples planning celebrations on Cape Cod and the Islands,? said William Hall, founder and lead photographer at Perla Images Cape Cod Wedding Photographer. ?Proximity to key venues and planning partners helps us respond quickly and collaborate more effectively throughout the engagement-to-delivery process.?

Perla Images Cape Cod Wedding Photographer will continue to provide wedding photography, engagement sessions, elopement coverage, and integrated photo-video coordination. The studio will retain its current service model, including limited annual bookings and owner-led creative direction, while adding greater flexibility for on-site meetings and venue walk-throughs in the Cape region.

?The Hyannis office supports the way our clients prefer to work?meeting in person when useful, previewing locations, and aligning timelines with planners and venues,? Hall added. ?This change strengthens our logistics without altering the experience couples expect from our studio.?

Existing clients do not need to take any action. All contracts, points of contact, and production schedules remain in effect. Inquiries for new bookings will be coordinated through the Hyannis office, with availability across Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Connecticut, New Hampshire, and destination assignments by request.

Perla Images Cape Cod Wedding Photographer is informing venue partners and planners of the updated address and will continue collaborating with regional vendors on scheduling, site access, and day-of coordination. The company will maintain standard turnaround practices for preview selections and final galleries, with project management and post-production workflows unchanged by the move.

Founded and led by William Hall, Perla Images Cape Cod Wedding Photographer documents weddings with an emphasis on candid storytelling, editorial portraiture, and consistent color rendering. The studio?s approach centers on comprehensive planning, day-of coordination with partner vendors, and owner-directed editing for final delivery.

Independent industry data indicates sustained wedding demand on Cape Cod and across Massachusetts. Barnstable County hosts roughly 1,500 weddings annually, with an average spend near $45,000 and typical guest counts in the 150 to 160 range. Massachusetts as a whole accounts for more than 35,000 weddings per year with average spending in the mid-$40,000s, representing a market measured in the billions of dollars. Planning cycles commonly favor late summer and fall dates, with September and October among the most popular months and competitive venue booking windows extending a year or more in advance. Regional economic organizations have identified weddings as a meaningful contributor to local business activity, reflecting ongoing demand for vendor coordination, travel logistics, and on-site planning throughout Cape Cod.

Perla Images Cape Cod Wedding Photographer is a Massachusetts-based wedding photography studio serving couples across New England. The company provides end-to-end coverage from engagement through album delivery and coordinates with planners and venues to align timelines, site logistics, and production needs. The studio?s new office is located at 100 Independence Drive, Hyannis, MA 02601. The studio
