Rivera Tennis Academy Announces Thanksgiving Tennis Camp for Junior Players

November 10, 2025

Spring, Texas - November 10, 2025 -
Rivera Tennis Academy has announced its Thanksgiving Break Training Camp, scheduled for November 24th through 28th, providing junior tennis players an opportunity to enhance their skills during the holiday break. The camp offers flexible scheduling options to accommodate families' holiday plans while maintaining consistent training for young athletes.

The Thanksgiving Tennis Camp in Spring, TX features two program options designed to meet different scheduling needs. The three-hour morning session runs from 9 a.m. to noon and is priced at $150, while a two-hour option from 9 a.m. to 11 a.m. is available for $120. Members of the academy receive a 10 percent discount on all camp fees.

"The Thanksgiving break presents an ideal opportunity for junior players to maintain their momentum and refine their techniques when school is out," said Alfredo Rivera, Academy Director and former ATP and Davis Cup player. "Our camp structure allows families to balance holiday activities while ensuring their children continue progressing in their tennis development."

The Tennis Camp in Spring, TX will focus on comprehensive skill development, including technical refinement, strategic play, and match preparation. The academy's location at Forest Oaks Swim & Racquet Club provides multiple courts and facilities to accommodate various training activities throughout the camp duration.

Rivera Tennis Academy has designed the holiday camp to complement its year-round programming, which includes junior, kids, adult, private, elite, and homeschool tennis lessons. The Thanksgiving camp specifically targets junior players seeking to maintain their competitive edge during the school break.

"We understand that consistency is crucial for young athletes' development," Rivera explained. "This camp ensures that the progress students have made throughout the fall season continues uninterrupted, setting them up for success as they head into the new year."

The academy's approach combines technical instruction with engaging activities appropriate for various skill levels. Participants will receive coaching from instructors trained under Rivera's methodology, which draws from his extensive experience competing at the professional level.

Registration for the Thanksgiving camp is currently open, with spaces available on a first-come, first-served basis. The academy encourages early enrollment to secure preferred session times.

Rivera Tennis Academy operates as a comprehensive tennis coaching institution serving the Spring, Texas community. Under the direction of Alfredo Rivera, a former ATP player and Chilean Davis Cup team member, the academy provides instruction for all ages and skill levels. The facility offers junior tennis lessons, kids tennis lessons, adult tennis lessons, private tennis lessons, elite tennis lessons, and specialized homeschool tennis programs. In addition to regular instruction, the academy hosts leagues and local tournaments, provides racquet stringing services, and maintains a selection of Babolat tennis equipment. The academy has established itself as a premier tennis training destination in the Spring area, known for its professional coaching staff and supportive learning environment.
