

All In Solutions Detox Enhances Family Support Through Integrated Communication Programs

December 01, 2025

SIMI VALLEY, CA - December 01, 2025 -
All In Solutions Detox, a CARF-accredited addiction treatment center, has strengthened its commitment to comprehensive recovery by emphasizing the critical role of family involvement during the detoxification process. The facility recognizes that addiction affects entire family systems and has developed specialized protocols to maintain meaningful connections between patients and their loved ones throughout treatment.

The detoxification process marks a crucial turning point in addiction recovery, and All In Solutions Detox in Simi Valley has implemented structured communication systems that keep families informed and engaged from the moment a patient enters care. This approach addresses the isolation that often accompanies addiction while fostering the rebuilding of trust that is essential for long-term recovery success.

"Recovery is strongest when families heal together, starting right at the detox stage," said Alexandra Folgia, Director of Family Program, DMFT. Her expertise in marriage and family therapy has shaped the facility's approach to treating addiction as a condition that impacts entire family systems rather than individuals alone.

The facility's Family Program provides immediate contact with families after admission and continues support even after patients complete their treatment. This continuity of care ensures that the healing process extends beyond the individual to encompass the broader support network that will be crucial for sustained sobriety. Weekly meetings, educational resources, and guided communication sessions help families understand the recovery process while developing healthier patterns of interaction.

Research consistently demonstrates that patients whose families are actively involved in their treatment experience better long-term outcomes. All In Solutions Detox inpatient programs incorporate this evidence-based approach by creating structured opportunities for family participation throughout the treatment journey. The program addresses common challenges such as rebuilding trust, establishing healthy boundaries, and improving communication skills that may have deteriorated during active addiction.

Michael Maddaloni, a COO for All In Solutions Detox, emphasized the importance of treating addiction's impact on relationships. "When someone enters our facility, they bring with them a network of relationships that have been affected by their substance use. Our role is to help heal not just the individual but also these vital connections that will support their recovery long after they leave our care."

The facility's integrated approach combines medically supervised detoxification with comprehensive family support services. This dual focus ensures that while patients receive the medical care necessary to safely manage withdrawal symptoms, their families simultaneously receive the tools and support needed to navigate their own healing process.

All In Solutions Detox operates as a Joint Commission-accredited facility and maintains membership in the National Association of Addiction Treatment Providers. With over 11 years of experience in addiction treatment, the organization as a whole has supported more than 7,700 individuals in achieving sustained recovery. The facility offers various levels of care including medical detox and residential treatment, each designed to meet patients at their specific stage of recovery while maintaining the family-focused approach that distinguishes their treatment model.
