CHERRY HILL, NJ - December 12, 2025 -

All In Solutions Counseling Center Cherry Hill has announced the expansion of its comprehensive alumni support services designed to provide ongoing assistance to individuals who have completed addiction treatment programs. The initiative addresses the critical need for sustained community connections during the recovery journey, offering structured support systems that extend well beyond initial treatment completion.

The expanded services at All In Solutions Counseling Center Cherry Hill focus on creating lasting connections between program graduates and the recovery community. The center has developed a multi-faceted approach that includes regular alumni gatherings, peer mentorship opportunities, and continuous access to recovery resources. These services recognize that maintaining sobriety requires ongoing support and that the transition from structured treatment to independent living presents unique challenges for individuals in recovery.

"Recovery is sustained by community, and our alumni network ensures that no one has to face challenges alone after leaving treatment," said Haylee Marie La Tour, Aftercare & Case Manager Coordinator. The statement underscores the facility's commitment to providing continuous care that extends beyond the traditional treatment timeline.

All In Solutions Counseling Center Cherry Hill in South Jersey has structured its alumni services to address common post-treatment challenges including isolation, accountability, and access to peer support. The program facilitates regular meetings where alumni can share experiences, discuss challenges, and celebrate milestones in their recovery journey. These gatherings provide essential touchpoints that help individuals maintain their commitment to sobriety while building meaningful relationships within the recovery community.

Recent data from addiction treatment research highlights the importance of post-treatment support in maintaining long-term sobriety. Studies indicate that individuals who remain engaged with recovery communities after completing formal treatment demonstrate significantly higher success rates in maintaining their sobriety. The alumni program addresses this need by providing structured opportunities for continued engagement and peer support.

The facility's approach recognizes that recovery extends far beyond the initial treatment phase. The alumni network serves as a bridge between intensive treatment and independent recovery, providing crucial support during this transitional period.
