

Pure Vitality Minerals Announces That Non Acetone Nail Varnish Remover Is Now Available

March 24, 2016

March 24, 2016 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

A new nail varnish remover that does not contain acetone is now available on Amazon. Pure Vitality Beauty is very proud of their latest product, a completely natural, acetone free nail varnish remover. The company, which is based in Beaverton, OR, developed it as a result of customer requests and has now made it available through FBA (Fulfillment By Amazon).

"We have been working very hard on our latest product, the Pure Vitality Mineral nail varnish remover, and we're so proud of what we have come up with," says Keegan Allen from Pure Vitality Beauty. "We just know that our customers are going to love it, not in the least because it was actually created based on their request. We want to make sure our clients can look as beautiful as possible, without having to cause any damage to them or to the environment."

The fact that the nail polish remover is free from acetone is what makes it truly unique. Acetone is a highly toxic material that can damage health when inhaled, can be fatal when ingested and does tremendous damage to the environment as a whole. Because Pure Vitality Beauty is so committed to sustainability, they have taken things a step further. The product is 100% natural and plant based, and has even been USDA BioCertified as being chemical free and non toxic. As it also doesn't release any fumes, it is even safe for children.

The ingredients used in the product are designed to feed and moisturize the nails and cuticles as well. In contrast, acetone leaves nails brittle and weak. Although the product is completely natural, it is strong enough to remove even UV gel nail polish, which is known to be really stubborn.

"This product really is our pride and joy," adds Keegan Allen. "We made sure that every single ingredient is rated either 0 or 1 in the cosmetic safety review by the Environmental Working Group's Skin Deep database. There literally isn't a single hazardous, toxic or carcinogenic element in there, nor does it release any chemical fumes to pollute the environment."

The eco friendly remover, which is fully biodegradable, is now available for purchase on Amazon.

###

For more information about Pure Vitality Beauty, contact the company here: Pure Vitality Beauty Keegan Allen 15036084615 keeganallen@purevitalitybeauty.com 9450 SW Gemini Dr #41107 Beaverton OR 97008-7105

Pure Vitality Beauty

Email: keeganallen@purevitalitybeauty.com

Phone: 15036084615

Powered by PressAdvantage.com