Auckland, New Zealand - SuperiorMaker, a top retailer on the online shopping portal, Amazon.com who sells big doorstops, has been receiving praise for the versatility of their doorstops. Although not originally designed to do anything else but help keep doors open, buyers have been praising the company for creating a product that is not only for keeping doors open but also for leveling such things as appliances, file cabinets and washing machines.

Buyers have been leaving feedback on the big doorstops sharing their satisfaction with helping to ?level? certain things. Some buyers have used for washing machines and dryers to ?steady? them so they don?t shake and rattle during washing and drying. Another buyer used the door stop to level a small refrigerator.

These big door stops are 1.9 inches high, 2 inches wide and 6.5 inches long. They come in a convenient package of three and are made of heavy duty silicone material for extra durability.

?I needed this soo badly. My washing machine shakes and rattles around so much, especially when it is in the spin cycle. I was able to put one of the doorstops under the washing machine and the moving and rattling is now gone! Sooo happy with this purchase!?

Although SuperiorMaker also sells standard size doorstops, the big door stops seem to be used more than the standard size when it comes to leveling certain household items.

?We really didn't think of these doorstops as anything else than doorstops, so to hear how our buyers are using them is fantastic!?

 said Maria, a company representative.

The fact that these doorstops can be used for different types of problems, also saves consumers money in the fact that they do not have to go and buy additional products for each problem.

SuperiorMakers big door stops and standard door stops are exclusively sold on Amazon.com.
