Auckland, New Zealand - SuperiorMaker has solved the problem with frustrated door stop buyers that have doors with tall clearances. Many times, these buyers purchase standard doorstops and but they are not tall enough and does not help keeping the door open, instead slides around on the floor. This causes ongoing frustration to those with doors that have high clearance.

With this in mind, SuperiorMaker designed a doorstop that is 1.9 inches high, 2 inches wide and 6.5 inches long. These dimensions are perfect for a door that has a higher clearance than a standard size door. These types of doors are normally found in offices, warehouses, garages and other tall clearance doors.

The big doorstops are also made of industrial silicone rubber, so they are heavy duty. They are not for those that are just looking for decorative pieces. The stops for doors are sold in packages of three on Amazon.com.

?I purchased a few of these for our office. The doors have a much higher clearance than a normal door and these were exactly what we needed. I was so frustrated before after purchasing a few other ones that did not work. But, problem solved now! Thanks,? said Ana, a happy customer.

Another benefit of these big door stops is that they can be used on any surface ? carpet, tile, cement and wood.

?Since our flagship product are our standard doorstops, we got feedback from some buyers that they needed a taller doorstop. Understanding the need, we went ahead and designed a taller one to accommodate those individuals that needed one. Now, we offer both standard and big doorstops that can be used on any type of surface,? said John, a company representative.

SuperiorMakers big door stops and standard door stops are exclusively sold on Amazon.com.
