Royal Pools by Adams Highlights Five Decades of Excellence in Residential Pool Construction

November 19, 2025

SAN JOSE, CA - November 19, 2025 -
Royal Pools by Adams, a leading swimming pool contractor serving Northern California, marks 52 years of transforming Bay Area backyards into exceptional outdoor living spaces. The company has completed thousands of custom pool projects throughout the region, establishing itself as a trusted name in residential pool construction.

The milestone reflects the company's sustained commitment to craftsmanship and engineering excellence that has defined its operations since inception. Royal Pools by Adams has witnessed significant evolution in homeowner preferences over five decades, adapting its design and construction methods to meet changing demands while maintaining the quality standards that built its reputation.

"Homeowners today seek more than just a swimming pool; they want complete outdoor environments that rival luxury resorts," said Ray Langford, a spokesperson for Royal Pools by Adams. "Our team combines traditional craftsmanship with advanced construction techniques to create spaces that enhance both property values and family lifestyles. Each project reflects our understanding that a pool represents a significant investment in home improvement and quality of life."

The company's longevity in the competitive Northern California market stems from its focus on individualized attention and superior engineering. Every installation carries a lifetime structural warranty, demonstrating confidence in construction methods that exceed typical industry requirements. This approach has earned Royal Pools by Adams projects at many of the region's most prestigious addresses, including Atherton, Menlo Park, Saratoga, Los Gatos, Los Altos Hills, and Morgan Hill.

Royal Pools by Adams maintains showrooms in Pleasanton and San Jose, where homeowners can explore design options and materials with experienced consultants. These facilities showcase the latest trends in pool design, from elegant traditional layouts to bold resort-style features that incorporate modern technology and sustainable practices.

Besides new construction, the company also offers comprehensive resurfacing services that restore existing pools to optimal condition. This full-service approach ensures pools remain safe, functional, and aesthetically pleasing throughout their lifecycle.

As part of the Adams Pool Solutions family of companies, Royal Pools by Adams benefits from shared resources and expertise while maintaining its focus on personalized service. This structure enables the company to undertake projects of varying complexity, from intimate backyard retreats to expansive commercial installations for hotels, municipalities, and recreation centers.

The 52-year milestone represents not just longevity but consistent adaptation to industry advances and customer expectations. Royal Pools by Adams continues to invest in training, technology, and design innovation to ensure each project meets contemporary standards while honoring the craftsmanship traditions that established its reputation.

Royal Pools by Adams specializes in custom swimming pool design and construction for residential and commercial properties throughout Northern California. The company is a member of the California Pool & Spa Association and the Pool & Hot Tub Alliance, maintaining active involvement in industry standards and best practices.
