GMV Law Group Secures $750,000 Settlement in Kennesaw Truck Accident Case

November 19, 2025

KENNESAW, GA - November 19, 2025 -
GMV Law Group has secured a $750,000 settlement for a Kennesaw resident injured in a semi-trailer truck collision, marking a significant recovery in a case involving multiple fractures and ongoing medical treatment. The settlement, reached in 2025, addresses damages from an accident in which a commercial trucking company's vehicle t-boned the client's vehicle in Kennesaw, resulting in multiple bone fractures, a concussion, and the need for continued medical care. The case demonstrates the firm's capacity to handle complex commercial vehicle accident claims in Cobb County and throughout the greater Atlanta region.

The GMV Law Group truck accident lawyer team negotiated the settlement with the commercial trucking company's insurance carrier to cover medical expenses, lost income, and compensation for the physical and emotional impact of the collision. The client sustained injuries requiring immediate hospitalization and ongoing treatment, with the settlement structured to address both current medical costs and future care needs. Commercial vehicle accidents frequently involve catastrophic injuries due to the size and weight disparity between semi-trailers and passenger vehicles, making thorough legal representation essential for injury victims.

GMV Law Group is a Kennesaw-based personal injury law firm serving clients throughout Cobb County and metro Atlanta. The firm's attorneys handle truck accident cases, car accident claims, motorcycle collision cases, and other personal injury matters. Founded to provide aggressive representation for injury victims, GMV Law Group has recovered millions of dollars in compensation for clients across Georgia.

"Truck accidents often result in life-altering injuries that require substantial financial resources for recovery," stated Alan L. Grinberg, Personal Injury Attorney at GMV Law Group. "This settlement provides our client with the means to continue necessary medical treatment and addresses the significant disruption this collision caused to their life. We're committed to holding commercial trucking companies accountable when their vehicles cause serious harm to other motorists in Kennesaw and throughout our service area."

The Kennesaw office has expanded its focus on trucking accident representation in response to increasing commercial vehicle traffic throughout Cobb County. Interstate 75 and surrounding roadways carry substantial truck traffic serving distribution centers and logistics operations in the Atlanta metropolitan area, creating elevated collision risks for passenger vehicle drivers. A truck accident lawyer must navigate both Georgia negligence law and federal commercial vehicle regulations administered by the Federal Motor Carrier Safety Administration when pursuing claims against trucking companies.

Commercial vehicle accident cases differ from standard car accident claims due to multiple potentially liable parties, including truck drivers, trucking companies, vehicle maintenance contractors, and cargo loading operations. Semi truck accident cases often involve electronic logging device data, driver qualification files, vehicle maintenance records, and federal hours-of-service compliance documentation. GMV Law Group's trucking accident attorneys work with accident reconstruction experts and commercial vehicle specialists to establish liability in complex collision cases involving large trucks.

The firm's Kennesaw location positions its legal team to respond quickly to truck accidents occurring throughout Cobb County and along major commercial transportation corridors. Trucking accident attorney services include investigating collision scenes, preserving critical evidence such as electronic logging data, communicating with commercial insurance carriers, and pursuing maximum compensation for injury victims. The firm operates on a contingency fee basis, allowing truck accident victims to access legal representation without upfront costs.

GMV Law Group's commercial vehicle accident practice addresses collisions involving tractor-trailers, delivery trucks, semi-trucks, box trucks, and other commercial vehicles. The firm's attorneys handle cases involving catastrophic injuries such as traumatic brain injuries, spinal cord damage, multiple fractures, and other serious harm resulting from trucking collisions. Clients can schedule consultations to discuss their truck accident cases and learn about their legal options for pursuing compensation from negligent commercial vehicle operators.
