March 16, 2016

March 16, 2016 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

LimoRSVP, a limousine service based in Deerfield, Illinois, has announced a new loyalty rewards program for customers. The company announced the program recently, which is now available for customers of Chicago limo services.

Bud Hicks, spokesperson for the limo company states, "What better way to show our appreciation than to offer a rewards program for repeat customers? What began as a service for corporate clients has now expanded to include every customer who uses our service - and it starts with your first booking."

Hicks states that points accumulated will never expire, which makes this a bonus program that can pay off for a large percentage of clientele. As corporate limousine specialists, the company says that they do their very best to provide first class services across the Chicago area. They state that their level of service is a cut above what is typically found in the area, and that they have a large number of repeat customers. Those interested can follow LimoRSVP on Twitter to learn more.

"That tells us we are doing something right. And we are constantly looking for new ways to further improve the overall limousine experience for every customer we are privileged to serve," says Hicks.

The company says that only registered account clients will be permitted to participate in the rewards program, and that once registered, points will not expire. Once a customer applies and books their first reservation, they will instantly receive 500 reward points. Hicks states that there are a number of additional ways to earn reward points, and that they offer beneficial rewards for customers to redeem.

Each reservation made and completed with the company is awarded an additional 100 points. Hicks states that they are also awarding 500 points for each referral that books and pays for service. 1,000 points earns free airport transfer or one hour free on an hourly rental for a Lincoln or Cadillac sedan. The free rental does not include gratuities for drivers.

Customers interested in learning more about the new loyalty reward program can follow LimoRSVP on LinkedIn or contact the company directly with any additional questions.
