PLEASANTON, CA - December 08, 2025 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Adams Pool Solutions, a Northern California pool contractor with seven decades of experience, emphasizes its specialized expertise in commercial pool construction as hotels, resorts, and municipal facilities throughout the region seek experienced contractors for complex aquatic installations.

The company has completed more than 29,000 projects since 1953, with commercial projects representing a significant and growing segment of its operations. Adams Pool Solutions works with general contractors, architects, and engineering firms on projects ranging from boutique hotel pools to Olympic-sized municipal facilities, addressing the unique challenges that come with high-traffic aquatic environments.

"Commercial pool construction requires a fundamentally different approach than residential projects," said Ray Langford, Marketing Director at Adams Pool Solutions. "These facilities serve hundreds or thousands of users daily, demanding specialized engineering, robust materials, and strict adherence to health and safety regulations. Our seven decades of experience have prepared us to handle these complex requirements while delivering projects on time and within budget."

The company's commercial division focuses on new construction and renovation projects for properties including luxury hotels, municipal aquatic centers, homeowners associations, and educational institutions. Recent projects have encompassed complete mechanical system replacements, deck resurfacing, accessibility upgrades, and the installation of contemporary features that meet current safety standards.

Adams Pool Solutions has integrated advanced technologies into its commercial projects to address the operational demands of high-volume facilities. These include energy-efficient circulation systems, automated chemical management equipment, and advanced surface materials specifically designed for high-traffic environments. Such systems help reduce operational costs and maintenance requirements for commercial properties while extending facility lifespans.

The technical requirements for commercial pools extend beyond basic construction. Municipal facilities must comply with strict health department regulations, while hotels and resorts require aesthetically pleasing designs that complement their brand identity. Educational institutions need pools that can accommodate both competitive swimming programs and recreational use, often requiring specialized lane configurations and timing systems.

Adams Pool Solutions maintains active memberships with the California Pool and Spa Association, the National Plasterers Council, and the Pool and Hot Tub Alliance, ensuring its practices align with industry standards and evolving regulations. These affiliations provide access to continuing education and technical resources that benefit commercial clients seeking contractors who understand the latest developments in aquatic facility management.

The company's approach to commercial projects emphasizes collaboration with project stakeholders from initial design through final inspection. This includes coordinating with general contractors on large-scale developments, working with architects to integrate pools into overall facility designs, and consulting with engineering firms on mechanical systems that can handle the demands of commercial use.

Adams Pool Solutions operates from its Northern California base, serving commercial pool-building and renovation clients throughout the region with resources developed over 7 decades of operation. The company's portfolio demonstrates its capability to manage projects that serve thousands of users annually while meeting the stringent requirements of commercial aquatic facilities.
