Flow Tech Plumbing & Heating, Inc. is offering HVAC Services in Ligonier, IN

December 01, 2025

LIGONIER, IN - December 01, 2025 -
Flow-Tech Plumbing & Heating Inc has expanded its service area to include the city of Ligonier, where it will now operate as an HVAC contractor. This addition represents a geographic adjustment within the company?s existing coverage across northern Indiana.

With a presence in the state dating back to 1991, Flow-Tech Plumbing & Heating Inc has long provided heating and cooling services to residential and commercial clients. The addition of Ligonier falls in line with its gradual expansion approach, which has historically prioritized consistent service standards across each new area served.

The company?s operations in Ligonier will be handled through existing infrastructure, without the establishment of a new office or facility. This model allows Flow-Tech to extend availability of its HVAC services without altering its current organizational framework. Services in the area will follow the same procedures and protocols in place across other locations already supported by the company.

?Expanding to Ligonier is part of a natural progression,? said David Gareiss, spokesperson for Flow-Tech

Plumbing & Heating Inc. ?It reflects our attention to where services are needed and how we can continue to meet those needs while staying aligned with our current structure.?

Flow-Tech?s presence in Ligonier includes general heating and cooling system work. The company has made no changes to its staffing or scheduling process for this expansion, and services are dispatched using its existing coordination methods. The decision was made following internal evaluations of logistics and resource capacity, with the company determining that Ligonier could be supported without any operational disruption.

The move comes as part of the company?s broader focus on maintaining service continuity in the northern part of the state. Rather than a large-scale operational shift, the Ligonier addition is described by the company as an incremental adjustment aimed at filling a geographic gap within its coverage map.

Flow-Tech Plumbing & Heating Inc is now offering HVAC operations in Ligonier. In addition to heating and cooling, the company also provides other mechanical services, such as plumbing and water conditioning, in its broader service areas.

Flow-Tech Plumbing & Heating Inc continues to operate with a centralized structure based in Goshen, Indiana. From that location, the company coordinates its service reach across multiple nearby cities and towns. The inclusion of Ligonier is consistent with the company?s approach of adding new areas based on proximity, infrastructure capacity, and sustained need.

In accordance with its typical practices, the company has not introduced changes to pricing, scheduling systems, or customer communication procedures as part of the Ligonier rollout. Residents in the area can access services through the same administrative process as those used in other locations served by Flow-Tech. The company's operating procedures are designed to be uniform across all locations, ensuring equal access to services regardless of city.

The company has not made any projections about service volume in the new area and emphasizes that this addition is part of a broader effort to maintain geographic consistency, rather than a marketing or promotional campaign.

Flow-Tech Plumbing & Heating Inc remains focused on managing its service footprint across northern Indiana in a manner that supports long-term consistency. The company has not released further comments beyond confirming the availability of HVAC services in Ligonier.
