

The Ranches At Spring Creek Announces Land For Sale In Texas

March 15, 2016

March 15, 2016 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Located in Glen Rose, Texas, The Ranches at Spring Creek has announced land for sale in the area. The upscale country community features huge live oak trees, lush coastal meadows, a community park, stocked fishing pond with island, rock bottom creeks, and spectacular, panoramic Hill Country views that go on for miles.

Vince Cutaia with The Ranches at Spring Creek states, "Come explore these beautiful, big and bold 5 acre ranch properties, offering a prime location at the top of the Texas Hill Country, and take advantage of incredible prices from just $69,900."

Vince Cutaia points out that the hill country land for sale is perfect for those looking to build a home for residence or vacation. He says that traditional bank mortgages as well as Texas Veteran financing are available, making it easier for consumers to fulfill their dreams of land ownership in 2016. "Just give us a call today and schedule your fun, no pressure, and no obligation tour," states Vince Cutaia.

Those interested can get an overview of the land available by visiting www.SpringCreekTX.com. The company states that there are a number of land parcels available, all in great locations and at more than affordable prices.

The Ranches at Spring Creek is a former world-class longhorn ranch, and prides itself on pristine landscapes with long range views of the surrounding area. Available land is close to a number of attractions on Bosque County including shopping, fine dining, and local wineries.

Vince Cutaia says that the heritage of the area is in part due to the abundance of waterways, which include the Bosque and Brazos Rivers and the Meridian and Whitney lakes. He says that those purchasing land at the Ranches will be able to enjoy hiking, fishing, or horseback riding, along with live music and a number of family themed events. The properties are about an hour from Waco and Fort Worth.

Those interested in learning more about the land available at The Ranches of Spring Creek can contact for more information. Cutaia states that the company schedules regular tours of the lands available and those interested in a tour can contact the company directly, or visit their website to learn more.
