International author Ronald Kern has announced a new publication appropriately titled "Passion in Action." The book, which can be purchased at <http://www.amazon.com/Passion-In-Action-Pursue-Success-ebook/dp/B0106MIM74>, provides insights and life lessons from those who have reached their own levels of success. Kern states that the goal of his book is to help individuals to define their true passion and to live their lives so that they are ultimately successful and satisfied. The book contains real life stories that include material success as well as personal success.

The book includes interviews with six different people from six different industries and contains insights into how they discovered and then fulfilled their passions, including the secrets that they used to get them where they are today. Ron, along with his wife Lisa, also share insights from their own lives throughout the book. More about the book and the author can be seen at <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=Z3cV07kb7uM>.

"We want this book to inspire, engage, and encourage you to find (and put) your 'Passion in Action'," Ron says. The book has been endorsed by Jack Canfield, and has the New York Times bestselling author quote on the cover. The author also has another book, Passion in Action II, which is in progress and should be released soon, and will include interviews and stories from more real life people. He is writing a children's book as well.

Ronald Kern is considered a serial entrepreneur; starting, growing, and selling over eight (8) companies. He was the founder and CEO of a multi-million dollar private investigation and pre-employment screening company, which was sold in 2013 to start new ventures. Since "retiring" his focus is, as he put it, "to help those struggling with whatever their life obstacles may be."

In 2014 Ron created LIMBitless?, a non-profit organization that helps the adaptive and wounded veteran communities. He is a columnist for several magazines, author, certified Go-Giver Coach and Consultant, and a motivational speaker. Since he isn't busy enough, Ron and his wife host their own radio program, "Passion Points Radio Show", heard locally on 94.1 FM and streamed worldwide.
