A.J. Klein Jewelers Announces Ear Piercing Clinic for Community Members

December 05, 2025

SHELTON, CT - December 05, 2025 -
A.J. Klein Jewelers has scheduled an ear piercing clinic on December 7, 2025, from 2:00 p.m. to 4:00 p.m. The event provides professional ear piercing services in Shelton, CT, in a safe environment. Appointments are required for participation.

The clinic reflects the company's ongoing commitment to offering specialized services beyond traditional jewelry sales and repairs. As a jewelry store in Shelton, CT, A.J. Klein Jewelers has served the local community since 1992, focusing on quality workmanship and customer satisfaction. The family-owned business partners with established brands and designers to provide a selection of fine jewelry and diamonds.

Ear piercing represents one aspect of the store's diverse offerings, which include assistance in selecting engagement rings, wedding bands, and other pieces for special occasions. The process ensures proper hygiene and technique, addressing common concerns associated with such procedures. Participants can expect individualized attention during the session.

In addition to the clinic, A.J. Klein Jewelers handles various repair needs, such as resizing rings, polishing pieces, and fixing broken chains. Customers have brought in heirloom items for redesign, transforming older jewelry into modern creations while preserving sentimental value. The staff assists with custom designs, incorporating personal preferences and adding elements like diamonds to existing settings.

The company also manages watch repairs, including battery replacements and adjustments. Appraisals form part of the services, helping clients understand the value of their possessions. These capabilities stem from years of experience in the industry, allowing the business to address a range of jewelry-related requirements.

Throughout its history, A.J. Klein Jewelers has emphasized personal service. Staff members guide customers through selections, ensuring choices align with budgets and tastes. This approach has fostered long-term relationships, with some clients returning for decades.

The ear piercing clinic builds on this foundation by extending services to younger community members and families. It provides an opportunity for safe introductions to jewelry wearing, using appropriate equipment, and aftercare instructions.

"We recognize the importance of professional ear piercing to prevent complications and ensure a positive experience," said Alan Klein, owner of A.J. Klein Jewelers. "This clinic allows us to contribute to the community by offering reliable services in a familiar setting."

The event requires advance appointments via text message, accommodating a limited number of participants during the two-hour window. This structure maintains efficiency and personalized care.

Beyond repairs and custom work, the store maintains a collection of ready-to-purchase items, including earrings, necklaces, bracelets, and rings. Partnerships with designers enable access to varied styles, from classic to contemporary.

Customers often seek guidance for milestone gifts, such as anniversary presents or proposals. The staff's knowledge aids in these decisions, drawing on extensive inventory and expertise.

Repairs typically involve quick turnarounds, with some tasks completed on-site. For instance, resizing wedding sets or restoring vintage pieces occurs with attention to detail, restoring items to their original condition or better.

Heirloom transformations have become a notable service, where family pieces receive updates to suit current preferences. This includes resetting stones or combining elements from multiple items into new designs.

The company's reputation rests on consistent quality across all interactions. From initial consultations to final deliveries, the focus remains on meeting expectations without pressure.

"This event exemplifies our dedication to comprehensive jewelry care, from acquisition to maintenance," said Alan Klein, owner of A.J. Klein Jewelers. "We aim to support customers at every stage of their jewelry journey."

Established in 1992, A.J. Klein Jewelers operates as a family-owned enterprise in Shelton, CT. The business specializes in fine jewelry, diamond sales, custom designs, and repairs. It collaborates with industry designers to offer diverse selections while upholding standards of service and craftsmanship.
