McCoy Outdoor Co. Enhances Fishing Gear Selections to Support Regional Angling Activities

December 05, 2025

MOBILE, AL - December 05, 2025 -
McCoy Outdoor Co. has enhanced its fishing gear selections as part of ongoing efforts to support the angling community in Mobile, Alabama. This development includes expanded assortments of specialized brands and equipment tailored to local waters, reflecting the company's adaptation to the needs of anglers pursuing activities in areas such as Mobile Bay, the Mobile-Tensaw Delta and the Gulf.

The enhancements feature a curated range of fishing gear in Mobile, AL, with brands like G. Loomis, Shimano, Cashion, R.L. Winston, Bauer, AFTCO and Fishpond. These selections address various angling techniques, including saltwater fly fishing, and provide options for different skill levels and environments. In-house experts contribute to the process by evaluating and recommending gear that aligns with regional conditions.

Complementing the fishing offerings, the company maintains services such as rod and reel repairs, which ensure equipment reliability for extended use. Staff members assist customers in identifying suitable items, drawing from their knowledge of local fishing spots and seasonal patterns. This approach facilitates access to gear that enhances angling experiences without unnecessary complexity.

The broader inventory includes hunting equipment from premier outdoor brands such as Sitka, Drake, Nomad, Bowtech and Banded, alongside lifestyle apparel from Tom Beckbe, Johnnie-O, Mavi, Barbour, Filson, Poncho, Duck Head and Duck Camp. Footwear options encompass performance lines from Nike, New Balance, ASICS, Muck, OluKai and Salomon, with expert fitting available to match individual requirements.

Exclusive to the store is the Tom Beckbe line, an Alabama-made collection that integrates traditional style with functional design for outdoor applications. Products like the Tensaw Jacket demonstrate this combination, suitable for field activities while offering versatility for other settings.

Mark Wilson, Director of Operations at McCoy Outdoor Co., explained the rationale for these enhancements. "The focus on fishing gear reflects an understanding of local angling demands, allowing the company to provide relevant selections that support community pursuits," Wilson said.

Wilson further noted the integration of customer feedback in shaping the offerings. "Through collaboration with experts and ongoing evaluations, the assortments evolve to meet the practical needs of anglers in the region," he added.

These changes occur amid continued interest in outdoor activities in the area, where access to appropriate gear contributes to participation in fishing and related pursuits. The store's position in Mobile enables it to serve as a resource for those engaging with the surrounding natural features.

McCoy Outdoor Co. also facilitates special orders for items not immediately available, ensuring comprehensive coverage of customer requests. This service extends across categories, including archery and gunsmithing, which complement the fishing and hunting focuses.

The company's membership club for hunts fosters community connections, with participant feedback emphasizing organized events and a welcoming environment. Such initiatives highlight the retailer's role beyond product provision.

Overall, the enhancements to fishing gear align with the company's tradition of adapting to customer preferences while maintaining a foundation in outdoor expertise. This phase builds on previous developments, such as store renovations and new brand introductions, to create a more inclusive space for enthusiasts.

McCoy Outdoor Co. originated as a provider of sporting goods to the local population, evolving to encompass a wide array of outdoor essentials. Today, it operates as a family-oriented business with strong ties to the community, offering diverse selections in fishing, hunting, camping, and lifestyle categories, all supported by knowledgeable and passionate staff dedicated to helping customers.
