Geddie Tree & Land Services Expands Residential Tree Removal Services Across Hattiesburg Region

December 18, 2025

ELLISVILLE, MS - December 18, 2025 -
Geddie Tree & Land Services, a family-owned tree care company with over 26 years of experience, announces expanded residential tree removal capabilities throughout Hattiesburg and surrounding Mississippi communities including Collins, Bellevue, Ellisville, Laurel, and Purvis.

The expansion comes as residential property owners across the region face increasing challenges with aging trees, storm damage, and the need for professional tree care services. The company has enhanced its equipment fleet and certified arborist capabilities to meet growing demand for safe, efficient tree removal services in residential neighborhoods.

"Property owners often wait too long to address problematic trees, which can lead to property damage or safety hazards," said Jay Geddie, co-owner of Geddie Tree & Land Services. "Our expanded residential services ensure homeowners throughout the greater Hattiesburg area have access to professional tree removal when they need it, whether for routine maintenance or emergency situations."

The company's residential tree removal services address various situations homeowners encounter, from trees threatening structures to those affected by disease or storm damage. Each project begins with an assessment by the company's in-house certified arborist, who evaluates tree health, identifies potential risks, and determines the safest removal approach for the specific residential setting.

Beyond standard tree removal, the company provides comprehensive services including stump grinding, debris hauling, and site cleanup. This full-service approach ensures residential properties are left clean and ready for landscaping or construction projects. The company also offers tree pruning, shaping, and disease identification services to help homeowners maintain healthy trees and prevent future removal needs.

The expansion particularly benefits residents in Collins, Bellevue, Ellisville, Laurel, and Purvis, where the company has increased its service availability. These communities now have enhanced access to same-day estimates and emergency response services, addressing a critical need for prompt tree care in residential areas prone to severe weather.

"Residential tree care requires a different approach than commercial projects," added Geddie. "Homeowners need providers who understand how to work safely around homes, protect landscaping, and minimize disruption to neighborhoods. Our team brings that specialized expertise to every residential project."

The company maintains specialized equipment designed for residential settings, allowing crews to access confined spaces and work efficiently near homes, driveways, and utility lines. This equipment, combined with experienced crews, enables the company to handle complex residential removals that might challenge less-equipped providers.

Geddie Tree & Land Services has served the Hattiesburg and Laurel areas since its founding, building a reputation for reliable service and professional expertise. The company offers both scheduled and emergency services, with free estimates available for all residential projects. In addition to tree removal, the company provides land clearing, site preparation, brush removal, and storm damage cleanup services for both residential and commercial clients throughout south Mississippi.
