

Guardian Gun Safe Launches New eCommerce Website

March 28, 2016

March 28, 2016 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Guardian Gun Safe is proud to announce the launch of their new eCommerce website. The site has been populated with all of the products that the company offers to date and is regularly updated. Products to date include such things as gun safes, cleaning kits, under seat lock boxes, dehumidifiers and more. The products can be viewed at <http://guardiangunsafer.com/all-products/>.

Kevin from Guardian Gun Safe says: "We are incredibly pleased with our new e-commerce store. It features all of our products, including details about what they are, and gives people the opportunity to make a fully secure purchase. We have also included more information on the site, including a useful blog that we update regularly with industry news, gun information and more. We're happy to see that the site is already attracting a lot of visitors and that people seem pleased with what they find."

To coincide with the launch of their new e-commerce store, the company has also launched a social media campaign. Their Facebook page, available through <https://www.facebook.com/guardiangunsafer/>, is already attracting quite a lot of visitors. This profile, as with their blog, is mainly used to share information relevant to gun enthusiasts across the country. In addition, it is also an opportunity for people to communicate directly with the company and with their peers.

Perhaps most important is the fact that the company is using the site to promote safe gun handling for children and adults alike. "The 2nd Amendment has gotten a bad name internationally and even in our own country, people are starting to wonder whether some legislation changes should be made," adds Kevin. "We believe that what is needed is some education about how guns can be kept safe. Safe storage is a major element of this, of course, which is why our store focuses so strongly on storage facilities."

In the wake of another accidental shooting in which a toddler shot his mother, the information and products offered by Guardian Gun Safe couldn't have come at a better time. People are welcoming the fact that they are promoting gun safety on their blog found on <http://guardiangunSAFE.com/blog/>.
