Partywalls London Highlights Essential PServices as Vicennium Surveyors LLP Expands Hackney Operations

December 16, 2025

London, UK - December 16, 2025 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Partywalls London today announced expanded party wall surveying capabilities throughout Hackney, addressing the growing need for professional party wall services in one of London's most active construction areas. The company, operating through its specialized division, provides comprehensive party wall agreements, dispute resolution, and structural engineering services across all Hackney neighborhoods.

The expansion comes as construction activity in Hackney continues to rise, with residential renovations and new developments requiring proper party wall procedures under the Party Wall Act 1996. Vicennium Surveyors LLP - Party Walls Hackney serves building owners and adjoining property owners throughout the borough, including Hackney Central, Dalston, Stoke Newington, Hoxton, and surrounding areas.

"Party wall matters require careful navigation of both legal requirements and neighbor relations," said Chris Cooper, a spokesperson at Partywalls London. "Our expanded presence in Hackney ensures property owners have immediate access to chartered surveyors who understand local construction patterns and can facilitate smooth project progression while protecting all parties' interests."

The company provides essential services, including party wall notices, party wall awards, boundary dispute resolution, and property boundary surveys. Their team handles both straightforward party wall agreements and complex disputes requiring expert witness testimony. Services extend to structural engineering assessments for party walls, ensuring construction projects meet safety standards while minimizing impact on adjoining properties.

Party wall procedures become necessary when property owners undertake construction work affecting shared walls, boundary walls, or excavations near neighboring properties. Common triggers include loft conversions, extensions, basement excavations, and structural alterations. The Party Wall Act requires building owners to serve proper notices and, when necessary, appoint surveyors to prepare party wall awards that protect both parties.

The firm maintains membership in professional organizations, including the Royal Institution of Chartered Surveyors (RICS), the Chartered Institute of Arbitrators, and the Pyramus and Thisbe Society. These affiliations ensure adherence to industry standards and access to ongoing professional development in party wall legislation and best practices.

Recent client projects have included managing external repair programs, preparing expert witness reports for disputes, and facilitating agreements for major residential developments. The company's approach emphasizes transparent cost estimates and bespoke solutions tailored to each property's specific circumstances.

Partywalls London operates from Berkeley Square House in central London, providing party wall surveying services throughout the capital. The company specializes in party wall agreements, boundary disputes, right to light assessments, and construction consent procedures. Their chartered surveyors combine technical expertise with practical experience in residential and commercial property matters, serving both building owners initiating construction projects and adjoining owners affected by nearby development work.
