

GMV Law Group Receives Best of Georgia Honor for Second Consecutive Year

December 22, 2025

KENNESAW, GA - December 22, 2025 -
GMV Law Group has been named a 2025 Best of Georgia Honorable Mention Winner by the Georgia Business Journal, marking the second consecutive year the firm has received this recognition for its service to auto accident victims across Georgia. The award recognizes outstanding legal professionals based on professional achievement and client service standards.

The Georgia Business Journal's Best of Georgia program evaluates attorneys through a comprehensive review process that examines client feedback, professional credentials, and community impact. The firm previously received the same distinction in 2024, with the repeat recognition reflecting sustained excellence in handling car accident cases throughout the Atlanta and Kennesaw areas.

"Receiving this honor for the second consecutive year reflects our team's collective commitment to every accident victim we represent," said Alan L. Grinberg, Esq., car accident attorney at GMV Law Group. "This recognition validates the approach we take with each case and the dedication our attorneys bring to helping injury victims navigate the claims process."

The award announcement comes as car accidents continue affecting thousands of Georgia residents annually, with auto collisions remaining a leading cause of injury across the state. According to the Georgia Department of Transportation, the state sees hundreds of thousands of crashes each year, underscoring the ongoing need for experienced legal representation.

GMV Law Group's car accident attorneys have represented injury victims for years, focusing primarily on auto accident cases. The firm has recovered millions of dollars in compensation for clients injured in various collision scenarios, including rear-end accidents, head-on collisions, drunk driving incidents, and hit-and-run cases.

The Best of Georgia program's selection process involves multiple evaluation criteria, including professional accomplishments, peer recognition, and demonstrated commitment to client service. The program aims to identify legal professionals who consistently deliver exceptional results while maintaining high ethical standards.

GMV Law Group handles various types of auto accident cases, including those involving motorcycles, trucks, pedestrians, and rideshare vehicles. The firm also represents clients in personal injury matters such as workers' compensation claims, premises liability cases, and wrongful death actions. The firm operates on a contingency fee basis, meaning clients pay legal fees only if their case results in compensation.

The Kennesaw car accident lawyers at the firm maintain offices in both Kennesaw and Atlanta, providing accessibility to accident victims throughout the metropolitan area and beyond. The firm's attorneys hold membership in professional organizations, including the Atlanta Bar Association and Georgia Trial Lawyers Association, bringing extensive experience to car accident claims.

The firm's approach to car accident representation includes comprehensive case evaluation, evidence collection, insurance negotiation, and trial preparation when necessary. This systematic methodology has contributed to the firm's track record of securing favorable outcomes for accident victims facing medical bills, lost wages, and other accident-related expenses.
