

Cell N Comp Repairs Expands Device Repair Services to Meet Growing Logan Square Demand

December 23, 2025

CHICAGO, IL - December 23, 2025 -
Cell N Comp Repairs, a Chicago-based electronics repair specialist, has expanded its comprehensive device repair services to better serve the Logan Square and Avondale communities as demand for professional electronics repair continues to rise in these neighborhoods.

The repair center, located at 3416 W Diversey Avenue in the Hairpin Lofts building, offers professional repair services for a wide range of electronic devices including smartphones, tablets, computers, smartwatches, and gaming consoles. The expansion comes as residents increasingly seek reliable alternatives to device replacement amid rising electronics costs and growing environmental consciousness.

"Our Logan Square location has become a vital resource for residents who need fast, reliable repairs for their essential devices," said Abdul Arif, owner of Cell N Comp Repairs. "We understand that people depend on their phones and computers for work, school, and staying connected with family. Our goal is to provide same-day service whenever possible, getting devices back into customers' hands quickly without compromising on quality."

The repair center specializes in servicing devices from major manufacturers including Apple, Samsung, Google, Dell, HP, Lenovo, PlayStation, and Xbox. Common repairs include screen replacements, battery replacements, charging port repairs, virus removal, hardware diagnostics, and operating system updates. Most phone screen repairs can be completed within 20 to 30 minutes, while computer diagnostics and repairs typically require 24 to 48 hours.

Logan Square Cell N Comp Repairs has earned a 4.9-star rating based on over 550 customer reviews, reflecting the company's commitment to quality service and fair pricing. The shop maintains extended hours from 8 AM to 7 PM seven days a week to accommodate customers' busy schedules.

"We see everything from cracked iPhone screens to water-damaged laptops to gaming consoles that won't power on," added Arif. "Our technicians are trained to diagnose and repair issues across multiple device types and brands. We use quality replacement parts and back our work with warranties, giving customers peace of mind about their repairs."

The Logan Square location represents one of two Cell N Comp Repairs locations serving Chicago, with another shop operating in Rogers Park. Together, the locations have completed over 2,000 device repairs with consistently high customer satisfaction ratings.

As technology becomes increasingly integrated into daily life, professional repair services provide an important alternative to costly device replacement. The repair industry has grown significantly as consumers seek to extend the lifespan of their electronics while reducing electronic waste.

Cell N Comp Repairs serves the Chicago area with professional electronics repair services specializing in phones, tablets, computers, gaming consoles, and smartwatches. The company focuses on providing fast turnaround times, quality repairs using reliable parts, and transparent pricing. With locations in Logan Square and Rogers Park, the company has established itself as a trusted repair provider for Chicago residents seeking professional device repair services.
