Auckland, New Zealand - SuperiorMaker has released for online shoppers a product to make their home living more comfortable. The product is a modern wedge door stop that is sold at affordable prices. Customers have begun to express their satisfaction and likability of the product which is sold on Amazon.

As of March 2016, the SuperiorMaker Door Stop has so far accumulated over 200 customer reviews. To be exact the product has gathered some 231 customer reviews. Of this amount, the product has acquired some 43% five star ratings. The company says this is not a bad rating for a product in the Office Products and Furniture Accessories categories.

The fact that the door stop has amassed most of their ratings as five stars is testament to the versatility of the product. Five stars is the highest rating that any product can attain on Amazon. It speaks to the likability of the product and that customers prefer it over other similar products. The door stop is being seen by customers as a great way of keeping their doors open. It is made from rubber and optimally sized for standard home and office doors.

One five star reviewer who named himself "Kindle Customer" reported that they were happy with their purchase and didn't have any problems unlike another reviewer. "I'm happy with my purchase. I have an older house with hardwood floors and a lot of doors. These help keep the kids from slamming the doors since they can't close them with a stopper in place. I didn't have any problem with odor or with them being too short like another reviewer. I would buy again," the customer commented.

Another five star reviewer, Chloe, mentioned using the door stop to prevent her dog from getting into the basement. Chloe stated, "My dog is constantly going in the basement getting into the litter box. These are great. I use two on one side of the door and two on the other to keep it propped open, so the cat can go in and out but the dog can't get down."

Lynn, another five star reviewer, saw the door stop as the only purchase that could stop her door from closing. "It is smaller than I expected, but works great. Our door is really heavy, I have had one stopper for it, that one took a lot of work to get the door stayed. This SuperiorMaker Door Stop works much better. It stops heavy doors with just one try for the past several days. Love it!"

The SuperiorMaker Door Stop is sold exclusively for online shoppers on Amazon. Those customers who order now can receive two free homecare ebooks valued at $19.98 with each purchase.
