

Milestone Church to Host Lead to Win Leaders Gathering January 6?7, 2026

December 24, 2025

Keller, Texas - December 24, 2025 -
Milestone Church announced it will host the Lead to Win Leaders Gathering on January 6?7, 2026, a two-day leadership event created to serve pastors and church leadership teams. The gathering is presented in partnership with Lead to Win and is designed as an in-person experience featuring main sessions and breakout sessions focused on leadership and ministry practices.

According to information published on the official event website, the Lead to Win Leaders Gathering is open to pastors and their leadership teams and is structured around two full days of programming. The event includes main teaching sessions, multiple breakout sessions, and opportunities for leaders to gather together in a shared learning environment. Attendance is offered at no cost, and lunch is provided on both days of the event.

The 2026 gathering will feature a lineup of nationally recognized speakers from ministry, leadership, and worship backgrounds. Confirmed speakers listed on the event website include Jeff Little, founding pastor of Milestone Church; Jon Gordon, author and leadership speaker; Steve Robinson, lead pastor of Church of the King; Jim Laffoon, international director of Every Nation Schools of Empowerment; Dharius Daniels, pastor and author; Dino Rizzo, co-founder and executive director of ARC; Tom Mullins, founding pastor of Christ Fellowship Church; and Brooke Ligertwood, worship leader and songwriter.

Speaker biographies on the event website highlight a range of leadership experience, including church leadership, organizational leadership, authorship, global ministry involvement, and worship leadership. The diversity of backgrounds represented among the speakers reflects the event?s intent to serve leaders across a variety of ministry roles and organizational contexts, while maintaining a shared foundation in faith-based leadership.

The Lead to Win Leaders Gathering includes a structured schedule that spans two days. The published agenda indicates a combination of general sessions and breakout sessions designed for different leadership roles and ministry areas. Breakout sessions are listed by topic and role focus, allowing attendees to choose sessions most relevant to their responsibilities. Session recordings will not be made available following the event, reinforcing the emphasis on in-person participation.

Organizers describe the gathering as a leadership-focused environment rather than a traditional conference. The event is designed to bring leaders together for concentrated time away from day-to-day ministry demands, creating space for shared learning, reflection, and engagement with peers. The Lead to Win Leaders Gathering is presented as an annual opportunity for leaders to gather around leadership principles and organizational practices within a faith-based framework.

Milestone Church?s role as host aligns with its ongoing involvement in leadership development initiatives. Founded in 2002, Milestone Church has grown into a multi-campus church and has developed a range of leadership and training resources over time. Hosting the Lead to Win Leaders Gathering reflects the church?s continued investment in equipping leaders and supporting ministry teams through structured learning environments.

The Lead to Win organization is known for providing leadership resources, training, and events designed to support pastors and church leaders. The Leaders Gathering is one of several initiatives under the Lead to Win umbrella, bringing together leaders from different regions for in-person instruction and collaboration. The partnership between Lead to Win and Milestone Church underscores a shared commitment to leadership development within the local church context.

Attendance information, event logistics, and additional details about the Lead to Win Leaders Gathering are available through the official event website. Registration is required, and space is subject to availability. Additional updates regarding the event are expected to be posted online as the January 2026 dates approach.
